Local Briefs

Members of the Huron School District Board of Education last week voted to recognize the ROMULUS ROMAN as the official newspaper of the school district.

The vote, 6-0, with trustee Larry O'Kelley absent from the proceedings, means that the Roman will carry all of the school district's legal proceedings.

The motion, offered by trustee Ronald Tabor, and supported by John Watson, also received its stamp of approval from board president Jim Pershing, and trustees Gary Tobin, William Manny and Jackie Dregansky.

The ROMULUS ROMAN is also the official publication for the Township of Huron, the City of Romulus and the Romulus Community School District.

The Romulus-Wayne Cadet Squadron will hold its first car wash on Sat., May 28, using the Security Bank facilities on Wayne Rd. and the I-94 Expressway.

Proceeds from the all-day project will be donated to the Civil Air Patrol Romulus-Wayne Cadet Squadron for its various programs. There is a $2 charge for cars; pick-ups and vans will be washed for $3.

For further information contact Lt. Wanita Marventino at 941-6059.

Romulus residents shouldn't look for their June issue of the "Your Schools in Perspective". The publication, put together by the Romulus Community Schools, was shelved because "an insufficient number of articles were received for next month's publication," according to school officials.

Articles for the September "back-to-school" issue should be forwarded to Bill Smith, editor of the school newsletter.

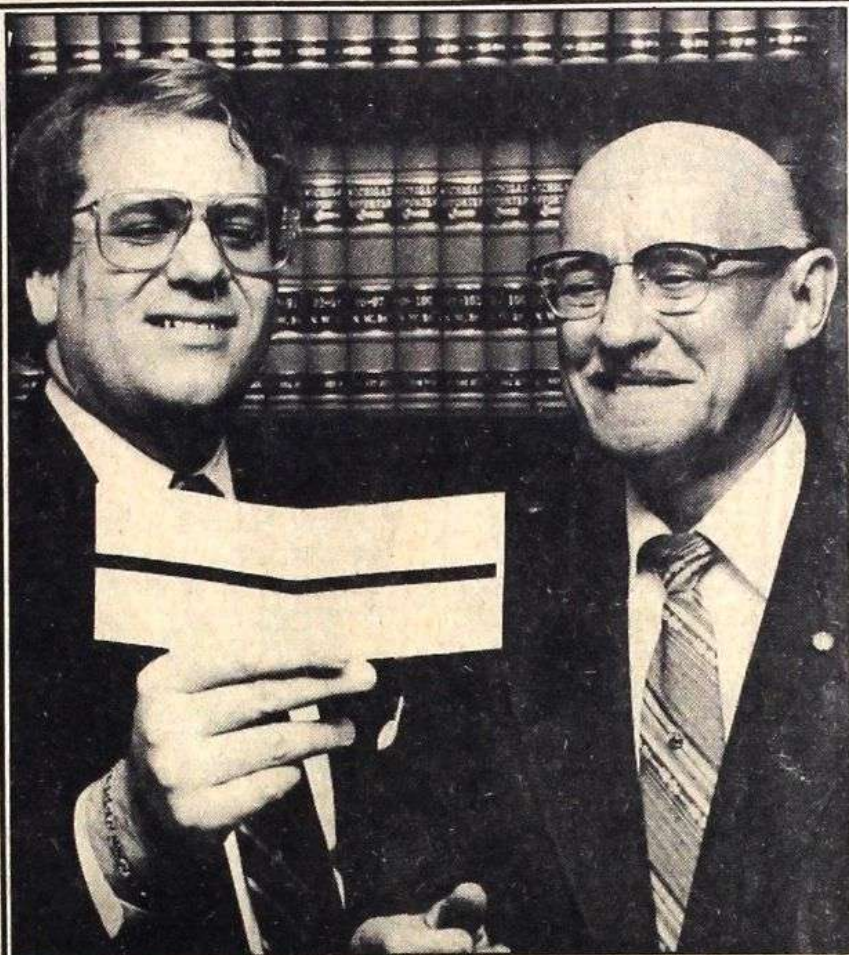

"Hänsel and Gretel", an opera, will be performed by the Piccolo Opera Company, at 9:45 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. on Thursday at the Romulus Senior High for students in all of the elementary schools in the school district.

The opera is sponsored by the Romulus Parents Area Council.

Twenty-four students have completed the requirements for adult graduation in the Huron Adult Education program, school officials announced. Graduation ceremonies will be conducted on May 31 in the Huron High auditorium.

Graduating students will include: Barbara Eagle, Hazel Evens, Jessie Harper, Marie Larochele, Edward Melton, Carol O'Kelley, Sheila O'Dell, Robert Parker, Norma Patrick, Steve Patterson, Gina Paul, Kimberly Pike, Thelma Regan, William Sarber, Eugene South, Christine Spielman, Kay Summers, Karen Styles, Thelma Wilson and Catherine Zanon.

Fall classes will begin Sept. 19. Call 782-1505 for information.

Checking cherished victory

Attorney Harry Ellman (at left) and Romulus councilman John Lewkowicz glance at a check made out to the city from Wayne County which represents a settlement in a lawsuit initiated by Lewkowicz in 1976 as the then treasurer of the city against the Wayne County Drain Commission. The suit charged that the commissioner utilized local taxes illegally to cover the drain commissioner's administrative expenses. Romulus' share of the nearly $600,000 is approximately $140,000.

Lewkowicz vs. Youngblood

Lawsuit funds pay off Blakely study

Five communities are expecting to share in a "rebate" of approximately $550,000 thanks to an agreement reached between the Wayne County Executive's Office which recently agreed not to continue to contest in the courts the "Lewkowicz vs. Wayne County Drain Commissioner" lawsuit.

The settlement will mean that the cities of Romulus, Riverview, and the townships of Van Buren, Huron and Canton will receive monies placed in escrow during the nearly eight years of litigation.

The lawsuit was launched in July of 1976 when Romulus councilman John Lewkowicz, serving as city treasurer, decided to challenge Charles N. Youngblood, Wayne County Drain Commissioner, for levying tax assessments against the cities of Romulus and Riverview along with the three townships.

Lewkowicz brought in the law offices of Harry S. Ellman to defend his case, which was eventually settled with major ramifications. One legal significance derived from the litigation was the courts upheld a treasurer's legal right to withhold taxes from the county "if the treasurer truly believes that the taxes were improperly assessed."

The $544,096.29 accumulated over a period of seven years, will be returned to the communities on a proportionate basis with Romulus receiving 40.63 percent; Lincoln Park — 6.12 percent; Riverview — (See LAWSUIT Page 3)

On June 13 ballot Romulus voters to get 3 school tax proposals

Citing that the removal of the asbestos insulation from the city's senior high school is imperative for the health, safety and welfare of the students, the Romulus Board of Education has placed three proposals on the June 13 school election ballot to eliminate the health hazard.

The three proposals are:

- A .6 mill (one mill is $1 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation) levy to remove the asbestos insulation from the ceiling at the high school;
- A bond issue for $1.4 million over a period of 8 to 10 years to replace the Romulus Senior High School roof and the roofs at Bart and Halecreek schools;
- A 3 mill tax increase for school operations.

Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of Schools, said that the asbestos insulation must be removed "because of the potentially dangerous health risk."

"The six tenths of a mill proposal, from a health standpoint is absolutely essential so that we can remove the hazard," Dr. Bedell said. "We have to get the asbestos out of there, and that's all there is to it."

Dr. Bedell explained that the bond issue is equally important because, "There's no sense of putting 47,000 square feet of new ceiling in, then turning around and letting the weather ruin it. Also, these two other buildings, we'll be getting the money back eventually, hopefully through litigation. The roofs obviously were improperly installed."

Dr. Bedell said that the school district has gone to court to prove that the roofs on Bart and Halecreek were defective and to force the constructors to pay for the damages.

"In the meantime, the waters from the rains are causing the cement to leach and rusting the steel. If we are not careful, we're going to lose the entire facility or both facilities," Dr. Bedell added.

The .6 of a mill would generate approximately $187,000, and the 3 additional mills would pump approximately $900,000 into the school coffers. That money would help restore some of the programs deleted because of the lack of funds. Because of cutting back from a 6-hour school day to five hours and eliminating programs, Romulus schools also could lose their accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.

Accreditation is a key to many college doors.

School officials have studied the financial consequences of the new proposals, and what it would cost an "average" household.

"We looked at some tax bills," (See PROPOSALS Page 3)

Effective July 1 Huron schools may lose accreditation

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
(Special ANP Writer)

Huron High School has been notified that it faces loss of accreditation by the University of Michigan, effective July 1.

The University's decision is apparently based on an inspection visit by Dr. Kent W. Leach on Dec. 2, 1981.

At that time, Leach listed the following violations of educational standards, reconstructed here from a memorandum by Huron High School Principal Jon W. Stevens:

- (1) Inadequate amount of adult secretarial help in the entire school.
  - (2) Inadequate building maintenance and care inside and out.
  - (3) No music taught for credit.
  - (4) Insufficient amount of fine arts. Need one more unit.
  - (5) Need one half unit of physical education.
  - (6) No professionally qualified librarian.
  - (7) A very meager extra co-curricular program other than varsity athletics.
  - (8) An insufficient amount of per pupil library expenditures.
  - (9) No counselors.
  - (10) No administrative help for the principal.
  - (11) An inadequacy of supplies for certain curricular areas such as art, physical education and music.
  - (12) Inadequate cleanliness and maintenance of the plant.
  - (13) The length of the school day.
- In the memorandum, addressed to Supt. Gary Jackson, Principal Stevens said the violations listed were the likely framework from which the University of Michigan made its decision.
- No specific reasons were given in the University's April 21 notification letter from Leach.
- Stevens noted in the memorandum that the following deficiencies have been corrected:
- Maintenance and building care
  - Credit is given for sixth hour band
  - Sufficient units of fine arts given
  - Sufficient units of physical education are now taught
  - Administrative help equals two units per day as directed
  - Sufficient budget given for supplies in the areas of art, physical education, and music
  - Cleanliness and maintenance services have been restored
- The seventh violation, a too meager extra co-curricular program, will be corrected in the upcoming (See HURON SCHOOLS Page 3)

Michigan Week in Romulus labeled a 'huge success'

From the traditional ribbon-cutting ceremonies to "Education Day" and the week-long festivities that brought thousands of visitors to the city, Romulus Michigan Week was labeled as a "categorical success." In the photo at the left Mayor William Oakley (dark suit) and William Simonds, President of the Romulus Central Business District Association, cut the ceremonious ribbon to open up the festivities while city clerk Raymond Cantrell (from left), councilman John Lewkowicz, businesswoman Joyce Palmer, RCBD secretary, councilmen Alan Lambert, Peter Bergeron, Barry Baumann and city treasurer Beverly McAnally join the proceedings. In the photo above, Romulus High social studies students join council members in the City Council chambers and take over the city government for a day. Social Studies teacher Rod Hanna said the students learned a wide function council is responsible for, including the roles government plays in taxing, financing and legislation. "It was a very educational experience for all of the students," Hanna added.

We did it

Employees of Wayne County General Hospital who spearheaded a fund drive to raise $100,000 for young heart transplant LaSalle Rogers announced this week that they have reached their goal. Through hospital sponsored activities such as bake sales, dances, a 15-mile walkathon, raffles and other programs the monies were raised. Smiling over the successful drive and representing the thousands of people who donated to the fund are: Robert Updike, Medical Social Services - top left; Jim Rawlinson, Respiratory - top right; Richard Sorkin, M.D., Chief of Cardiology - bottom left and Patti Chylinski, Occupational Therapy.

ANP announces staff promotion

Susan Griffin has been promoted to the position of production/ad services manager at The Associated Newspapers, it was announced this week by David J. Willett, president and publisher.

Griffin, 24, is an honors graduate of the University of Minnesota-Duluth, where she received a bachelor of fine arts degree.

As production/ad services manager she will oversee a number of advertising and scheduling functions, including layouts and design work.

"This promotion will enable our staff and newspaper to better serve our customers and the community," Willett said. "Sue Griffin is a dedicated and talented professional who is a valuable asset to our management team."

Born in New York, Griffin was raised in Minnesota before moving to Wayne last year. Her husband, Kevin, serves as general manager of Group W Cable of Wayne.

36 years later

Huron schools history - simple to complex

The Huron School System, like many, evolved from a rural culture. Prior to its present formation — consolidation — in 1947, there were various little schools scattered throughout the Township.

In the northeast corner was Trusket School, and in the center was Kittle.

Bennett School took care of the students in the southeast corner, and across the Huron riverside was Vining School, between Huron High and Vining Road.

On Willow Road was Willow School and on Waltz, in Mineral Springs, was Waltz School, a two-room building which still exists. Another little school was located between Waltz and New Boston.

Many of these rural schools, some one-room structures no bigger than a house, were named after local families, farmers in the community.

The little schools drifted out of existence by the end of the 50s.

In 1925, the first portion of the New Boston Elementary School was built. It included four rooms. In the WPA days of the 30s, a back section was built adding six rooms and an office.

Since consolidation in 1947, the structures which have been built are larger with the intention of serving whole sections of the Township. In the 1949-50 school year, a new six-room facility opened its doors for 8th and 9th grade students. The school was built on a 48-acre plot at Merriman and Huron River Drive.

This was the beginning of the first Huron High School.

The high school grades were expanded progressively until they had their first graduating class in 1953. Sections were added to the building as well.

That structure is now the current Renton Junior High.

Huron Elementary was built in 1953, located right behind Renton Junior High. That same year, an addition was built onto the New Boston Elementary School.

Riverside Elementary was opened in 1960, located on Middlebelt and Huron River Drive.

Starting in the early 60s, the Huron School District population was growing rapidly.

In response, the first big bond issue was offered to the voters in December, 1964, and accepted by a 2-1 margin. The issue, in excess of $1 million, was for the construction of the current Huron High School.

The first graduating class of the new Huron High School was in 1967.

School officials realized that the expanding school population required structural additions to the high school, and a new elementary

Police hunt sex assault suspects

Canton police are investigating two instances of sexual assault which occurred in the township last week, and the claim of a third woman that she was held hostage in her own apartment and sexually abused early Monday.

The first incident was reported at approximately 1:15 a.m. May 7. A 22-year-old woman told responding officers that she had been walking on the shoulder of westbound Michigan Avenue between Beck and Denton Roads when a man who had been concealed in high weeds in the area jumped out of his hiding place and grabbed her roughly about the shoulders.

He brandished a blue-steel snub-nosed gun and threatened her, she told police, and held her at gunpoint while he sexually assaulted and raped her. She could only describe the man as about 5 feet 7 inches in height, thin, and told officers he was wearing a leather jacket. She could provide no information regarding his vehicle as he left her in the weeded area where he had taken her on foot.

She explained to officers that she had left a local bar on foot following a disagreement with her boyfriend.

Police and Canton EMTs were called in response to another charge of rape at 7 p.m. last Wednesday, when another 22-year-old township resident was assaulted on Lotz Road north of Michigan Avenue.

According to police reports of this incident, the young woman was jogging when she passed a dark blue car at the side of the road. A man who appeared to be working under the hood of the car grabbed her as she passed him and held a screwdriver to her throat. He dragged her into nearby weeds where she was raped and sexually abused, police said. She told officers that her attacker threatened her life if she did not meet his sexual demands.

She described the man as 5 feet, 9 inches in height, weighing about 180 pounds with brown hair. She guessed his age at 20 to 25.

In a third complaint of sexual attack, a 30-year-old Canton resident told police that she was followed home from a Ypsilanti carnival at midnight Sunday by two black males, approximately 18 years of age.

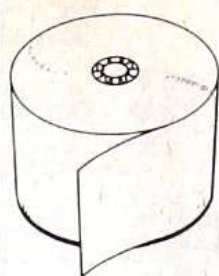

She told officers that the two men forced their way into her apartment at gunpoint, each armed with two guns, and ordered her to put her two children to bed. She was then held against her will by the men until approximately 6:30 a.m. Monday when the two fled. She told police that each of the men raped her during the time they spent in her home.

The Wayne County Community College Board of Trustees will hold its regular monthly scheduled meeting at 6 p.m., Wed., May 25 in the Multi-Purpose room of the Western Regional Center, 9555 Haggerty Rd., in Belleville.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

If You Lost Your Hearing Tomorrow, Would You Do Something About It?

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of one of the smallest Beltone aids of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than a fourth of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. All hearing problems are not alike and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid but many can. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 32638, Beltone Electronics Corporation, 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, IL 60646.

Accreditation is in jeopardy

academic school year when the full extra co-curricular program is restored, as directed by the School Board in April. It will be financed by private funds.

Of the five remaining violations, however, two are of the most serious in nature:

- No professionally qualified librarian
- No counselors

In fact, these two violations outweigh the other 11, according to Leach.

Leach said, in a telephone interview, that if the school had a librarian and counselor, it would have been cited for the other 11 violations "but the chances are they would not have been put on probation", as the school was, July 1, 1982.

"However, you must remember," he continued, "that if the other violations would have continued without any progress, they would eventually lose their accreditation."

When questioned, Leach noted that the length of the school day (Huron High School is on a five-period day instead of the normal six) is important but not as critical as the lack of counseling and a librarian.

The decision to drop Huron High from accreditation is a major blow to the beleaguered Huron School System which has suffered serious setbacks over the past few years.

formation is advanced at the June 21 meeting.

"That decision is not final in that they have offered to be here. Other districts are in the same situation. go to higher institutions of learning."

A school on probation is still accredited but it is on warning status. It remains within the association of schools.

Principal Stevens noted that the visit of Leach in December, 1981 was at a traumatic period in the school's history when major cutbacks in financing were having effect.

Yet, there were commendations by Leach of the professionalism of the staff, the principal, and of the courtesy of the students.

There is now a note of optimism in all concerned.

"I feel," Stevens said, "that once we indicate evidence of progress...they may reconsider their decision..."

Supt. Jackson was also upbeat about the chances of reversing the University's decision:

If the millage passes, (the chances are) good. Real good. In fact, excellent."

And even Dr. Leach of the University's decision:

"If the millage passes, (the chances are) good. Real good. In fact, excellent."

And even Dr. Leach of the University of Michigan seemed encouraging:

"I appreciate very much the interest that the principal and the superintendent have expressed in their school, and the very fact that they are coming here indicates a genuine interest in their school."

The decision drops Huron High from accreditation and is a major blow to the beleaguered school district

A reading between the lines of the notification letter, however, does imply that the school will have an opportunity to plead their case before the July 1 deadline and retain their probationary status.

"However," the letter states, "this decision does not take effect until July 1, 1983 and the committee has asked me to offer you a place on the agenda of its June 21 meeting in case you (Stevens) or the superintendent or a representative of your board of education would like to talk directly to the members of the committee concerning its decision."

Both Principal Stevens and Superintendent Jackson have indicated they will attend.

Leach explained the apparent ambiguity of the matter:

"The decision was official as of (an April meeting) to drop (Huron High School) unless additional information is advanced at the June 21 meeting.

Thus it would appear that if Stevens and Jackson present a strong case for the progress that has been made then the decision will be reversed.

The school administrators have some strong cards to play. Eight of the 13 violations have been corrected. Moreover, the third millage propositions in the June 13 election provides for money for counseling service. If this passes, the school will even be well on its way to getting off probationary status. Acquiring a librarian would be the last obstacle.

The Michigan Accreditation Advisory Committee is composed of 10 individuals, three university educators and seven school officials from other communities.

The rating it gives to a school is very important, used as a standard of judgment of the graduates who

From $57,500 Jobs Bill fund

Victory Park facelift is set

By EVE SILBERMAN
(ANP Special Writer)

Victory Park will get a facelift and at least two unemployed Belleville residents will get jobs, as a result of $57,500 allocated to the city from a federal jobs bill.

At its May 16 meeting, city council members unanimously approved using the funds to hire two individuals for park improvement work. The $57,500 is part of a 1.5 million jobs funding package, which was divvied up between 19 Wayne County communities. The funds must be used to hire unemployed residents for city projects.

The two individuals hired will work full-time for up to a year, providing seven-day a week park maintenance, according to Belleville Mayor Justin Emerson. In addition, Emerson added, the funds will be used to purchase equipment, such as lawn mowers.

The salaries for the two workers haven't been decided, Emerson said. "We may be able to hire other workers further down the line," he said, "but we were concerned about not over-budgeting."

Currently, about 15 percent of Belleville's work force — 175 workers out of 1,140 — are unemployed.

Wayne County Community Development Block Grant officials, who are administering the funds, must approve the project before it can get under way, according to the mayor. "But we don't think we'll run into problems," he added. "If approved, funding should come through in August."

The Victory Park project was chosen, the mayor said, because the park has long needed a facelift. "We got a 10-year lease on the park last winter from the Wayne County Road Commission," he said, "and there's a lot of work that needs to be done."

Park Gregory, chairman of the Belleville Park Commission, had proposed the funding be used for the parks, Emerson said. The mayor noted that Gregory was the only citizen to turn up at an open meeting discussing use of the funds.

Senior citizen housing renovation, as well as park renovation, was discussed. City manager Frank Pascarella said he'd been contacted by a representative of the Wayne division of United Community Services, a United Foundations agency, about the possibility of shared senior housing units in Quirk School. An elementary school, Quirk is scheduled for closure in a year due to low enrollment and the sagging economy.

Pascarella urged caution on the matter, noting the possibility of "competition for funds" between Quirk School project and a senior citizens housing unit that Belleville, along with four other neighboring communities, is backing. The five communities (Belleville, Romulus, Van Buren, Sumpter Township, and Huron Township) are currently seeking grant funding for proposed 100-unit housing project, to be located in Belleville, on Columbia.

Council members asked Pascarella to do further fact-finding on the shared senior housing project, and to report back at a later meeting.

In other matters: Council members decided, after a brief debate, to continue to prosecute drunken drivers under the state code, rather than modify the city ordinance to reflect changes on the state level.

Police Chief Willard Dockter told council members it would be cheaper to continue to prosecute under the state law, which, as of March 31, includes tougher penalties for drunken drivers and use of a new portable breathing device for "borderline" cases.

The Council also gave thumbs up to restaurant owner Phil Briganti, who asked for approval to seek a liquor license for his restaurant the Brass Bell, at 871 Sumpter.

Briganti will apply for a resort license, which must be renewed every year, so that he can operate a drinking lounge in the restaurant.

Romulus Schools ask approval of 3 tax proposals on June 13

Dr. Bedell said, "and, for example, if a house is on the tax rolls for $20,170, the homeowner will pay in school operating taxes 36.15 mills or $729. Next year however, since their SEV (State Equalized Valuation) has been dropped 18,890, that same homeowner will pay $682 in taxes or they would be getting a savings of $46 right off the bat or 2.5 mills just in school operation."

Because of the lower SEV, there are also savings to the tax payers in county and city taxes.

"So we figure that the average person in this city will be getting a 3 mill tax reduction on their property," Dr. Bedell added, "and these proposals, like the first one (.6 mill) would cost approximately 22 cents a week, and the bond issue, 30 cents a week. The 3 mill levy is about $1.08, so for a total of less than $2 a week we can solve three very monumental problems."

"And if you also add the 'circuit breaker,' the Homestead Property," Dr. Bedell continued, "about 80 percent will get most of this money back. I can't see any reason why they wouldn't approve these proposals."

Dr. Bedell figures that it would cost the homeowner 68 cents per week, "and that would help protect their own home values, their schools and keep kids off the streets."

Lawsuit is settled

2.61 percent; Brownstown — 22.76 percent; Van Buren — 9.22 percent; Huron Township — 9.22 percent and Canton — 11.73 percent.

Romulus will use that money to pay off a lawsuit against it for non-payment of a study made for the Blakely Drains. Council had assessed the city-at-large .28 mills to pay for the suit. A motion, made by Lewkowicz and supported by councilman Jimmie Raspberry, was approved by council for that purpose.

Therefore, taxpayers in Romulus may look forward to a .28 mills reduction in their taxes. (A mill is $1 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation.)

"I am extremely pleased that this lawsuit ended favorably for the city and the communities involved," Lewkowicz said. "It shows that when you feel and know something is wrong, you should fight to prove it so."

"I am also very pleased to see that this settlement will help lower our citizens' taxes, something that is long overdue," Lewkowicz concluded.

Clowning around

You can count on clowns getting into the act at festivals, and these two colorful comedians helped provide the laughs for the Michigan Week carnival during the week long festivities in Romulus. There were so many characters, in fact, that Joyce Palmer, Secretary of the Romulus Central District Business Association, said that a contest was held to determine the best in the lot. The winners will be announced next week.

Taking over the government

"Education Day" provided Romulus High School students and teacher Rod Hanna's Social Studies group an opportunity to see city government in action. The students filled in as councilmen and department heads, while the "real ones" offered tips and advice. Playing the roles of government officials were Matt Percy (police chief), from left, Mark Nowacki (corporate counsel),

Mayor meets the mayor

Being a mayor of a city means having a lot of responsibilities, and Greg Walker, a senior at Romulus Senior High, learned first hand from Mayor William Oakley of the job's demands. Greg was one of a score of students invited to City Hall during Michigan Week to "take over city government" to see how it all functions. Greg received the honor of being mayor for the day and, he said he liked it. Beware, Mayor, you may just have another challenger in the November general election.

And the band played on

Providing the music during the festivities of Michigan Week in Romulus was Romulus' prize-winning band.

The band is ranked among the best in the state and has captured numerous awards.

Huron schools history - simple to the complex

Another million dollar plus bond issue was passed in December, 1966. It paid for the first large vocational addition and the cafeteria of Huron High, and a brand new 20-room structure on Hannan Road in New Boston, then called Hannan Elementary, now called Miller Elementary. It was opened in 1969. Football and track facilities at Huron High were also completed. These were the existing structures until a bond issue for $3.5 million was accepted in 1975 to build the High School auditorium, pool, and to complete the vocational wing. Renton Junior High was completely remodeled with money from the issue, a bus garage was built on Merriman Road, and baseball diamonds and tennis courts were also completed. New Boston Elementary building was closed in 1979. Huron Elementary building was closed in 1982. Today, 36 years after consolidation, the Huron School District consists of basically four structures housing about 1750 students. There is Miller Elementary with 382; Riverside Elementary with 269; Renton Junior High with 460; and Huron High with 647. There are 54 adult education students. These students are taught by about 87 teachers, and 9 administrators. Some 24 part-time bus drivers are used to transport more than 90 percent of the students, requiring 30 buses. Some 9 clerical and 15 full-time custodial-mechanical-maintenance employees, and 18 part-time teacher aides are required to run the schools. The total population of Huron School District is about 10,000 in an area of about 36 square miles. Huron School District is comprised of almost all of Huron Township. However, a two-square mile area of the Township in the northeast corner belongs to Woodhaven Schools, and in the southeast corner, a one-mile square belongs to Flat Rock Schools. A small portion of Ashe Township and part of Sumpter belong to Huron Schools.

New Boston Huron High has accreditation problems

An Analysis

Why the money problems in Huron schools?

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
(Special ANP Writer)

The schools want more money? Our property taxes keep on going up, every year. We just got socked with a 38 percent state income tax increase. And now the schools want more money. Why? If an x-ray could reveal the thoughts of the approximately 4,098 taxpayers in the Huron School District, that monologue would show up. Apparently there is a problem. Just last week Huron High School was notified that it will lose its accreditation. What's the reason for that? In June, 1981 the extra-curricular program was dropped by the school board. No music. And the parents stepped in to run the sports program. In the 1979-80 school year, the high school only had varsity sports. All junior varsity and junior high school sports were cut. In the 1979-80 the state auditing department of education warned Huron School District that the 3-year deficit that it had run up had reached a limit and it had to be cleared up. So a special millage election was held in December, 1979, to bail out the schools, amounting to 4 mills, for one year only. You walk through Huron High School and you see a ceiling in the corridors that needs repair, walls which need a coat of paint, and clocks which do not run.

They have all stopped at some hour on some day in the recent past and you don't know what time it is. Other school districts have their problems. It's a national problem. But the clocks of other schools still run and the buildings seem intact. Huron schools seem to have a more serious problem.

One wonders what is the answer. Will it be complex? Will it be so complicated and abstract that no one can understand? Everybody knows some of the answers. The obvious answer is that the Huron School District is a semi-rural community with little if any industrial tax base. That is a handicap difficult to operate with. It's like swimming with one arm. Its taxes come from the people, who are already overtaxed.

The other answers are not so obvious. You have to ask the people who run the business. They have come up short on funds and they need money, desperately. Why? "Declining enrollment has hurt," said Jim Pershing, president of the Board of Education. "State aid has not kept up with our low income district school needs." To understand Pershing's answer one must understand the method of state financing. For every child that is enrolled in this school system, a low income district, the state will pay the school district $1,919. Thus, if the Huron School District were to enroll 200 new students, the state would give the district a check for $383,800. But that will not happen. Instead, Huron School District will lose 75 students this fall, according to Supt. Jackson, and it will lose 125 adult education students for which the state also provides $1,919 each. So Huron School District will not get $383,800 next year. It will get $383,800 less next year, so it has a problem. Why the declining enrollment? Birthrate, primarily, like it is across the country. But there is another reason which has to do with the poor state that the district is in. "Our declining enrollment is not only due to birth decline," said Joanne Elliott, Community Education Office Supervisor. "A good part of our declining enrollment occurred when parents began sending their students to other schools. I am positive of it. "A portion of the declining enrollment started when the Huron schools dropped to a five-period day," she continued, "and then when the sports were cut out. "The final gutting of the program was when band was dropped..." she added. So Elliott is introducing a new dimension to the problem. The school district was having its problems, of a financial nature, starting back in 1976 with the beginning of a deficit. In 1978-79, the District started to cut back its program. In 1979-80, sports were cut back. In 1981, all extra-curricular activities were dropped. From 1980-83, there was no librarian, no counselor, length of school day was shortened, music was dropped. There was a lack of maintenance.

So what Joanne Elliott is saying is that there was a downward spiral operating, as in a depression, and as the system falls apart people desert it. They send their kids to another school system. And the district loses more revenue. The other portion of the declining enrollment few people know about — the drop in adult education attendance and the loss of revenue which results. Huron School District is unique in that it has capitalized on its low income status and has generated money from it. It started in the early 70s when the District branched out from its own adult education program locally and offered to set up and administer adult education programs in other school districts. Since Huron School District is considered low income by the state, the state determined that for every four adult education students it teaches in a program, the District will get the equivalent aid of one student — $1,919.

Rich school districts do not get a cent. So Huron was welcomed to run other programs. "It has proven to be a bonanza," said Elliott. "We have approximately 2500 students every year, and this amount to 703 full-time-equated students. Huron receives $1,919 per student, so we receive $1,349,057. Adult Education is Huron School District's "industrial tax base". It runs programs in Dearborn Heights # 7, Ecorse Public Schools, Riverview Community Schools, Flat Rock Community Schools (Seniors only), Trenton, Grosse Ile, and the City of Wyandotte. It does cost money to run it; this academic year the cost was $570,000, giving a profit of $779,057. It is Huron's golden egg. It has kept the school district alive. The golden egg has been having its problems, however. And each time it does, it sends tremors through the school system. The rich districts are getting poor and they now are capable of making money off their own local adult education programs. If you analyze the periods of financial jolts over the past several years, they occur in part when the adult education program has had setbacks. The school district was threatened in the fall of 1977, its total operation money eroded greatly, when Monroe County pulled out of the Huron adult education program. But it was saved because tuition students came into the District from Romulus and Airport school districts which had suffered more serious setbacks. About 110 new students came in and Huron gained the state aid. In the year 1978-79, an extremely shaky time, Huron adult education lost the River Rouge program. Last year, Allen Park dropped Huron's adult education, resulting in a $143,925 loss in revenue. Next year, Wyandotte will drop, and Huron is likely to lose $126,175, about 65 students. In the rest of the adult education system Huron will lose about 60 students. And so now we are getting to the answer. It is: a declining enrollment of 75 regular students = $143,925 loss; Wyandotte will drop, 65 student decline = $126,175 loss; and 60 students will be lost in the rest of the adult education program = $115,140 loss. Total = $385,240. Lost revenue from the state. If the 3-mill package passes June 13, it will generate $282,000 in local taxes, = $93,000 from the state. Total = $375,000. It just about balances.

County approves contracts

As insurance rates soar

Auto club launches crackdown on 'professional car thieves'

Citing the growing statewide problem of car thefts, the Automobile Club of Michigan this week announced its first auto insurance rate increase in 18 months along with an all-out program to fight car thieves.

The new rate, to take effect July 1, will generate an 8.4 percent increase in premium dollars collected annually by the Auto Club's Insurance Group, according to Thomas G. Bowman, Auto Club Insurance director.

He reported that the Auto Club's Insurance Group paid out more than $50 million in stolen car claims during 1982, a 50 percent increase from the previous year. The number of stolen cars rose 36 percent last year.

Bowman also noted that the medical benefits claims in 1982 reached $33 million, up 14 percent from the previous year.

"What's more, we'll pay out close to $20 million in claims for damage caused by the May 2 hailstorm in southeastern Michigan," Bowman said. "While we can't do much about hailstorms, we are going to do all we can to stop auto thefts."

"We're not going to take this assault on our members lying down," Bowman asserted. "We're swinging into ACTION — Arrest Car Thieves In Our Neighborhoods. This program will offer large cash rewards, involve hundreds of thousands of car owners in learning how to win this war, each protective identification numbers on window glass and recommend change of our laws to crack down on car thieves."

Beginning July 1, the Auto Club will offer rewards of up to $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of individual car thieves and up to $10,000 for the breakup and conviction of organized theft rings and "chop shop" operators. These rings steal cars, often on assignment, and deliver them to chop shops for dismantling, after which the parts are sold.

"Car thefts are a growing problem throughout the state," said Corporal Tony Mastererofrancisco of the Dearborn Police Crime Prevention Unit, who attended the news conference at the Auto Club's Dearborn Headquarters.

"The amateur thieves have been enough of a problem, but the growing presence of these car theft rings requires strong counter-measures by vehicle owners. Only about half the cars reported stolen are ever recovered," Mastererofrancisco said. "The days of teen-age joyriding in so-called borrowed cars are over — and now the real criminals are in the drivers' seats. And, of course, the more valuable the automobile, the more likely it is to be stolen for sale or conversion."

A blue ribbon committee of law enforcement and other prominent citizens is being formed to assist in the reward program, which will include a statewide toll-free Auto Club

ACTION Hotline for calling in tips on car thieves and suspected chop shop operations.

Key to the anti-theft Vehicle Identification Program is the VIN — Vehicle Identification Number — which is a series of digits and letters that carry several bits of information and can trace the car to its rightful owner.

"A car's Vehicle Identification Number is as individual as a fingerprint," said Mastererofrancisco. "With that VIN etched into the glass or other surface of a vehicle, we can trace the legitimate owner, even if the original identification plate has been removed by the thieves."

The Auto Club plans a comprehensive program to assist car owners in etching the VIN into the vehicle's windshield and other glass areas. This will make the vehicle readily identifiable to any police officer who comes in contact with it. Any Auto Club insured car that has had its VIN etched in glass will carry a special sticker indicating it is protected.

Bowman said further details on the ACTION program, including the Hotline system and changes being sought in anti-theft laws, will be announced in the near future.

'Operation Care'

State Police offer tips on safe driving during holidays

State Police emphasis on traffic safety for the Memorial Day holiday weekend Friday, May 27, through Monday, May 30, again will include their participation in "OPERATION CARE", according to department director, Col. Gerald L. Hough.

Hough said that "CARE" — an acronym for "combined accident reduction effort" — for several years has been a federal fund assisted safety campaign in this and other states, helping to hold the line on summer holiday traffic casualties.

He noted that Michigan's participation in the "CARE" effort last Memorial Day weekend held state traffic deaths to nine.

"CARE" funding will permit the State Police to provide over 2,900 additional patrol hours for surveilling holiday traffic. "CARE" emphasis will be on 2,600 miles of major interstate and trunkline highways where accident incidence is most serious. The Michigan Army National Guard will assist the State Police by providing helicopters for aerial traffic watching which will include aerial speed timing of motorists by Guardsmen and trooper observers.

Hough urged resident and visiting motorists in Michigan to exert extra effort by following these guidelines:

Drive at reasonable speeds, ease up at night and during inclement weather.

Avoid following other cars too closely.

Give proper turn and stop signals in ample time so that other motorists have advance notice to react safely.

Pass only when it's safe to do so. Refrain from driving if you have done any immoderate drinking of intoxicating beverages.

Provide and use car safety restraints for motor vehicle passengers.

Be especially alert concerning pedestrians, bicycle and motorcycle traffic.

Remember that the maximum speed limit in Michigan and other states is 55 mph and that in Michigan penalty points are now assessable against motorists for speeding in the 60 to 70 mile range as well as above that rate.

Michigan laws governing driving while under influence of intoxicants have also been strengthened.

Views On Dental Health

By SHERMAN H. KANE, D.D.S.

DENTAL DISEASE NOT INHERITED

We can break the chain of tooth decay. Today, dental disease is totally preventable. Bad teeth don't "run in the family." There is just no hereditary excuse for cavities and crooked teeth. What we do pass down from generation to generation are eating habits, muscular patterns, attitudes toward oral cleanliness, etc.

If grandmother had a history of dental problems, maybe it was because she nor her parents knew how to take care of her teeth. If grandfather wore dentures, it may be because he lived at a time when teeth were extracted to "cure" all kinds of ailments from rheumatism to poor eyesight. But your own child has been born in an age of prevention. If he or she has eight cavities by age five, it will be because somebody has failed to do something.

Today's preventive dental knowledge calls for a three-way effort to break the chain of decay through new approaches to diet, oral hygiene, and strengthening the resistance of teeth to decay. It will take time, caring and effort, but we can defeat dental decay in children if we really work at it.

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: SHERMAN H. KANE, D.D.S., 9840 Haggerty Rd., Belleville. Phone 697-4400.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Thailand beckons Romulus' Eugene Labiak

To represent Rotary Club

EUGENE LABIAK

Eugene Dominic Labiak, Romulus High School senior, is headed for the country of Thailand in southeast Asia. He has been selected by the Romulus Rotary Club and Rotary International, through their Youth Exchange Program.

Labiak will be living 40 miles east of Bangkok in the sugar cane growing area, near beautiful beaches frequented by tourists. He will live in Thailand for a full year.

John Domas, Youth Exchange Chairman and Romulus High School guidance counselor, noted the selection of Eugene was made easy by his outstanding qualifications.

Eugene ranks 7th in his graduating class. He has already been accepted by Wayne State University, but he decided to postpone his enrollment for a year to take advantage of this "chance of a lifetime".

The search and selection by Rotary Clubs for worthy candidates to serve as Exchange Students is conducted by local Rotary Clubs with great care. All local candidates undergo a local screening.

In the case of the Romulus Rotary Club Eugene and his parents were interviewed by Rotarians: Jason Lovette, former Army Major and high school principal and Joel Carr, former Romulus High School principal and current Business Manager for the Romulus Community Schools.

In addition, candidates from many Rotary Clubs scattered all over the Detroit Metropolitan area and Canada went through a final screening before finally being accepted as Rotary International Exchange Students.

Eugene has been active on the school newspaper, is in the National Honor Society, served as class representative, Peer Counselor, director, drama writer, actor, producer and magazine editor. He has also found time to swim, ski, play volleyball, draw, sing, dance, cook, weightlift, read, and serve as a tutor.

Eugene resides in Romulus at 29032 Leroy with his parents, Eugene and Diane Labiak, and his brothers, Tony, Scott and Chris.

Eugene became interested in becoming a foreign exchange student through his own exposure to Exchange Students while attending a Rotary sponsored World Affairs Seminar held at the University of Wisconsin last June.

Thus, when the opportunity presented itself, (See STUDENT Page A-12)

Kudla completes Air Force basic training

Airman Timothy A. Kudla, son of Sandra L. Dubois and stepson of Bill L. Dubois of 6005 Dexter, Romulus, has been assigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the supply field.

He is a 1981 graduate of Romulus High School.

Army Pvt. Mark A. Fischer, son of Anna Fischer of Romulus, has completed basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

He is a 1974 graduate of Romulus High School.

John H. Stevenson, Jr., 18, son of Roberta R. Seog, 27505 Clairet, Romulus, has entered the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to Technical Sergeant John Patrick, the Air Force recruiter here, Stevenson's entry into the DEP serves two purposes. First, it allows the Air Force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and be assigned to a job or skill area. Second, the DEP enables Stevenson, a 1983 graduate of Woodhaven High School, to wrap up his personal affairs before leaving home.

Stevenson will enter the Regular Air Force on Dec. 9. Following graduation from the six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he will receive technical training in the mechanical aptitude area and be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Pvt. Timothy E. Roberts, son of Gale E. and Bernice J. Roberts of 37068 Huron River Drive, New Boston, Mich., has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

His wife, Linda, is the daughter of Nancy Gill of Pleasant Lake, Mich.

The private is a 1980 graduate of Huron High School.

Timothy S. Marshall, 19, entered the United States Air Force today, according to Technical Sergeant Ed Lehmann, the Air Force recruiter at 3645 Metro Place Mall, Wayne.

Upon graduation from six weeks basic military training at Lackland Air Force, Tex., he will receive technical training in the general aptitude area and be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Marshall, a 1981 graduate of Taylor Center High School, is the son of Jerry and Joan Marshall, 50946 Martz, Belleville.

Budget style tomato relish

Opinions on food packaging vary from highly complimentary to highly critical. There is agreement, however, about the variety of ways well-designed containers can be used and reused long after the original contents have been enjoyed.

Take the case of an empty 16-ounce can of stewed tomatoes. Once the contents are removed, the can goes into service as a mold for quick Budget Tomato-Relish Mold.

The stewed tomatoes are combined with a 3-ounce package of either lemon flavor or strawberry flavor gelatin, plus salt and vinegar. Remember to save the can! After the mixture has simmered for two minutes, pour it into the can and chill until firm. Dip in warm water then puncture the bottom of the can, and unmold. Serve on a bed of leafy green lettuce and watch six servings disappear.

BUDGET TOMATO-RELISH MOLD

- 1 can (16 oz.) stewed tomatoes
- 1 package (3 oz.) lemon or strawberry flavor gelatin
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon vinegar

Pour tomatoes into saucepan, saving can to use as a mold. Bring tomatoes to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 2 minutes. Add gelatin, salt, and vinegar; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Pour into can. Chill until firm — about 4 hours. To unmold, dip can in warm water and puncture bottom of can. Makes about 2 cups or six servings.

Florida honeymoon follows Coleman-Paas wedding rite

In an afternoon ceremony May 21 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Monroe, Cynthia E. Paas and Randall J. Coleman exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands. The Rev. Paul Donohue presided at the one-thirty rite which joined in marriage the daughter of Charles and Lucille Paas of 403 Godfrey, Monroe, formerly of Belleville, and the son of Clifford and Georgiann Schmitt of St. Louis, Mo.

Potted palms surrounding nine branch-floor candelabras formed the setting for the wedding at which Robert "Fat Bob" Taylor of Ann Arbor was soloist.

Entering the church with her father, the bride was gown in Belgian embroidered angel skin lace lined with ivory satin. The surplice bodice was styled with long sleeves and a champagne satin sash with embroidery enhancing the scalloped neckline, sleeves and toe-touching hemline.

The lace motif was carried out in the bride's toque hat which was accented with schiffli lace and frothy Russian veiling. Completing her bridal ensemble was a bouquet of white cala lilies, sweetheart roses, miniature snowflake poms, and baby's breath interspersed with English ivy.

Preceding the bride and her father to the sanctuary were two bridal attendants: Anne Stewart of Lansing, her sister, who was matron of honor, and Maureen O'Brien of Chicago, a former college classmate.

Their identical peacock blue silk organza gowns, designed with ruffled necklines, puffed elbow-length sleeves and fitted bodices, were complimented by bouquets of yellow irises, yellow roses, white miniature snowflake poms and English ivy.

Five-year-old Charlene Ramsey of Belleville carried out the role of flower girl in a little ivory satin hoop-skirted frock sashed in peacock blue. The basket she carried was filled with multi-colored silk flowers which matched her hairpiece.

The bridegroom chose his stepfather, Clifford Schmitt, to serve as best man. Groomsmen were his step-brother, Craig Schmitt of Denver, Colo., and the bride's brother, Charles Paas Jr. of Monroe.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Paas selected a pale blue crocheted dress cut in street length with a corsage of salmon-colored gladiolas and baby's breath for contrast. The bridegroom's mother, presented with a white cymbidium orchid, wore a rose-colored silk dress, also in afternoon length.

A reception for some 150 guests followed at the fairlane Mansion in Dearborn after which the newlyweds departed for a week-long honeymoon in Florida.

A graduate of Belleville High School in 1973 and the University of Notre Dame in 1977, the new Mrs. Coleman is employed as Executive Director, USDA, in Monroe. Her husband, a 1973 alumnus of Iowa State University, works as a hydrologist with the U.S. Geological Survey in Lansing.

Hosted by the bridegroom's parents, the rehearsal dinner was held at the Colonial House in Monroe.

MRS. RANDALL J. COLEMAN

Homemakers attend annual banquet

One hundred members of the Wayne County Association of Extension Homemakers (WCAEH) attended the annual banquet at the Extension Building May 10. New officers installed were Goldie Hoffman, president; Marg Covert, vice-president; Joyce Chamulak, secretary, and Kay Sibert, treasurer. They were inducted by Home Economist Vanessa Harris during a candlelight ceremony.

Mrs. Ellen Goodell awarded a $600 Emma Du Bord Scholarship to Vicki Hutchinson of Northville, a graduating senior. Two full scholarships to College Week at Michian State University were awarded to Enna Green and Vern Porter. Two one-day scholarships were presented to Mary Przybiski and Castine Armstrong from the Donna Lee Scholarship fund and raffle.

Twelve groups earned their bell awards by completing their goal sheets.

Four women, receiving their 25-year Pins, were Helen Kish of Trenton #1 group; Eve Esch from Grandale Gardens; Josephine Malinda of Lakeview, and Violet Ostlie from Nankin Mills.

The Sound Ambassadors, a barber shop quartet, provided entertainment followed by a roast beef, chicken and kielbasa dinner. The theme, "Let Freedom Ring," was displayed in decorations of liberty bell nametags, programs and centerpieces made by members. Joyce Chamulak was emcee for the evening program.

Quotes worth quoting . . .

"The greatest of faults is to be conscious of none." Thomas Carlyle said it.

potpourri

By Lee Smith Suburban Living Editor

Having had occasion to delve into the Morris Dictionary of Word and Phrase Origins recently (to clear up a few misconceptions and where-do-you-suppose-that-came-from-isms) it seemed apropos to share them with others who might have the same type of curiosity.

Gourmand-gourmet were the twosome giving us a bit of flak at a recent luncheon discussion and the difference between the two is summed up nicely by good ol' Bill and Mary Morris.

The distinction between gourmand and gourmet is a nice one and one worth observing. A "gourmet" is a person who is an authority on the selection and preparation of fine food; almost invariably he or she is also a qualified judge of vintage wines. But the gourmet is not necessarily a heavy eater. Indeed, he is likely (by reason of the discrimination he brings to his choice of viands) to eat quite sparingly.

A "gourmand", on the other hand, while he often shares his "almost" counterpart's liking for rare and unusual delicacies, is primarily a trencherman — one who loves good eating — and shovels it in!

The word "gourmand" was originally a French adjective meaning "gluttonous" and some slight vestige of this earlier meaning carries over into our language.

Both words, by the way, come from the same French source "gourmet" which originally meant groom or stableboy. Gradually gourmet came to mean any manservant and eventually the term was reserved for the wine-taster or steward. Since the prime requisite of a wine steward is the ability to discriminate among the choicest vintages, the word gourmet came to have the meaning "epicure", a person with a refined and cultivated taste in both eating and drinking — and that is the sense in which it is used most accurately today.

QUITE FAR REMOVED from the eating world was our second

"wonderment" — that being the derivation of "cocker spaniel" — rather an unusual title for one of America's favorite dogs if you stop to really roll the words around on your tongue.

Again, with the help of the Morrises: the first word comes from "woodcock", a small European game bird related to the snipe. This particular breed of spaniel was widely used for hunting the woodcock because its ability to start and retrieve such small game is almost unparalleled.

Spaniel, itself, means "Spanish dog" — and not because the breed was first developed in Spain, either. During the Middle Ages, Spaniards (justly or unjustly) were widely regarded by their enemies as servile, fawning and "meanly submissive." The long, silky, drooping ears of the spaniel and his gentle soulful eyes apparently led to the label "Spanish dog."

Anyone familiar with the breed, however, knows there's nothing "meanly submissive" about spaniels. Incidentally, spaniels were popular in England as early as Chaucer's time. In the Canterbury Tales he writes: "For as a spaynel, she wol on hym lepe" (For like a spaniel she would on him leap.)

So there you have it — two more bits of wisdom to help those lulls in conversation; see if you can manage to work food and animals in at the same time.

Senior citizens and those about to become SC's, take heart! There's still hope for all of us in the world of employment if Dorothy Fuldeim is any indication.

If you follow "potpourri", you'll recall my reference to an almost 90-year-old TV columnist out of Cleveland whom I'd caught a brief snatch of on "Good Morning America." You'll also remember I didn't have her full name but was attracted to her story because of her age and the fact she's a chocoholic, something with which I can definitely identify!

Since one of our readers, Sue Fearon, was kind enough to supply us with a few details on "my kind of gal", we're sharing this brief biography on Dorothy Fuldeim. There'll be a good many of you, I'd wager to bet, who agree with her being dead set against the idea of people being forced to retire at age 65. Then, again, there will be those absolutely panting for the retirement door to swing open for them who'll think she's crazy.

Feisty Dorothy was the first woman to anchor a TV news broadcast back in 1947 and today, looking a 90th June birthday in the face, is believed to be the oldest working newscaster in the world. She has been a fixture at WEWS, Channel 5, in Cleveland, Ohio for some 36 years. She's still working a full 9-hour day, five days a week, doing news commentary, interviews and hosting her own phone-in show, "Ask Dorothy."

In a career of near incredibility, she has interviewed such notorious personalities as Adolph Hitler, Albert Einstein, Helen Keller and most U.S. presidents from Franklin Delano Roosevelt on. She was considered to be the oldest broadcaster to cover the recent royal wedding in London.

When questioned why she continues such a strenuous lifestyle, she answered, "Why would I quit? I'm better now than I was 25 years ago; I don't look my age, I don't walk my age, I don't feel my age."

As to her longevity, she credits a diet which would panic any doctor but which obviously works for her.

As I mentioned in that May 11 issue, Dorothy loves chocolate so her "secret" is revealed thusly: "I prefer sweets to anything," she said. "You have no idea how much chocolate I eat. I really do eat it instead of food. I take a small amount of protein three times a week but I don't take any vitamins or mineral supplements."

Perhaps her success lies with the fact she abstains from coffee, seldom drinks alcohol, stopped smoking about 15 years ago and doesn't exercise at all, never has.

Now there's a case to completely befuddle the medical profession and a philosophy I love.

(Thank you, Sue, for sharing this information with us.)

FITCH-GREENSTONE

Altar date set

The engagement of their daughter, Pamela Sue Fitch of Oak Park, Ill., and Michael Allan Greenstone of Forest Park, Ill., is announced by Mr. and Mrs. James H. Fitch of 155 Second St., Belleville. A 1978 graduate of Belleville High School, the bride-elect earned her bachelor of science degree in medical records administration at Ferris State College in Big Rapids. She is currently employed at St. Mary of Nazareth Hospital in Chicago, Ill. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Greenstone of Hillsdale. He holds a bachelor of science degree in printing management from Ferris State, having graduated in 1981, and is now with Intaglio Cylinder Service in Schiller Park, Ill. An August wedding at Weber's Inn of Ann Arbor is being planned.

MAXINE HENDERSON

Medical technologist is Study Club guest

"Medical miracles in the hospital laboratory" was the subject of the talk given by Maxine Henderson, a medical technologist at Annapolis Hospital, at the recent meeting of the Belleville Woman's Study Club.

She explained how various tests are made in the hospital, discussed laboratory techniques and procedures and compared equipment used 30 years ago with modern usage. She also cited the progress that has been made in the administration of these tests and the modern concept of laboratory procedures using computers.

Mrs. Henderson holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Denver and has done graduate work at Eastern Michigan University. She and her husband, Roland, who live in Ypsilanti Township, are the parents of five children.

The program was planned by Helen Miller, Lois Hamilton and Violet Bird.

During the business meeting conducted by president Marge Emerson, the annual closing dinner was discussed. The executive board, which is traditionally in charge of the event, has set a June 8 date for the get-together at the Tin Lizzie in Belleville.

Held at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville, the meeting concluded with refreshments served to some 30 members by Arlene Smith and Sally Griffith.

Martha Pipok, Grand Worthy Advisor Soloist.

Miss Francis is the daughter of Roy and Peggy Francis of Belleville. For her term, she has chosen the following: flower, yellow rose; colors, orange and yellow; theme, "Love travels free;" song "The Rose."

Former Belleville resident, John Parker, the son of Kay and Joe Parker of Skidway Lane, has left for service with the U.S. Army Air Defense in El Paso, Tex.

Jeanne Clark,

Karen Tomey and Ruth McAtee attended Conductress Night at Gardenia Chapter in Dearborn recently.

Frances and Homer Cothern and Ruth McAtee attended graveside services for a former brother-in-law, Richard Walker of Dundee, recently.

Former Belleville residents, Sylvia Thornberg and son, Benjamin, spent a few days visiting her parents, Richard and Nancy Carey recently.

Nine members of Belleville Chapter #13 attended Wayne County Day May 14. Attending were the Charles McKelveys, Ruth McAtee, Kay Parker, Sue Featheringill, Karen Tomey, Connie Gubaci, Mary Grover and Jeanne Clark. Mrs. Featheringill was elected to serve as Martha that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mann of Wayne recently.

Tom and Heide Ketchum and small son, Brian, of Kalamazoo were weekend guests of his parents, the Vernon Ketchums

Belleville's Girlstown

This is 'Girlstown Foundation Month'

Governor James Blanchard has declared the month of May as "Girlstown Foundation Month" to honor the 25th anniversary of the program.

Girlstown Foundation, which has been serving adolescent girls and their families since 1958 is located at 11875 Quirk Road in Belleville. More than providing a place to live, Girlstown is a real home, offering the benefits of close-knit family living, decision and responsibility sharing and preparation for independent living.

The Belleville Study Club and the Belleville Junior Study Club are two of the 237 clubs of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs that support Girlstown. Girlstown opened in May of 1958 because it was felt that although there were many programs for boys and younger children there were few programs to meet the needs of adolescent girls. In Michigan today there are still approximately three times the number of placements for boys than there are for girls.

Over 500 girls have been served by the program in its 25-year history. Girlstown opened at 330 Liberty Street and moved to the new facility in 1973. Although Girlstown serves girls from all parts of Michigan many of the graduates of the independent living program remain in the Belleville community.

While the Girlstown residential program is a 24-hour-a-day operation, Girlstown also provides counseling to the families of residents and is licensed to provide foster care. This is all accomplished by 18 staff members.

Funds to operate Girlstown are raised through the Women's Clubs, private donations and corporate support.

For further information about Girlstown contact Tom McIndoe, the Executive Director, at 697-7242.

"Obasan" by Joy Kogawa. In this novel, the author discovers the truth about what happened to her, her family and her people in Canada during World War II. This truth is revealed bit by bit in a pattern where facts kept from her in childhood are gradually disclosed by her determination to break through the silence, love and protective discretion that swathed her developing life.

"Worldly Goods" by Michael Korda. The story of a family fortune and a crime. At its center is the love affair between a ruthless tycoon who cannot escape from his past and a beautiful woman whose own past is linked to his. Their lives are caught up in the struggle for wealth and power that has obsessed each generation of a great Central European banking family — even those who, under different names, have fled to America and cut their ties to the past.

"The Brink" by N. J. Crisp. Espionage, a chess game played with living pawns, has seldom been waged as tensely and ingeniously as in this novel. A British agent has been betrayed in West Berlin and treated to several weeks of the KGB's hospitality. Suddenly he is freed. Why?

ARTS, CRAFTS "The Complete Job-search Handbook" by Howard Figler. This is a realistic, understanding handbook that puts you in charge of your career future. The author has written this for all levels of job responsibility and all stages of career development.

"Coordinated Crafts for the Home" by Pauline Chatterton. More than 80 complete patterns for rugs, afghans, pillows, wall hangings and place mats in coordinating designs adaptable to several crafts.

FOOD, COOKING "New Gourmet Recipes for Dieters" by Francine Prince. The author provides over 200 new and delicious low-fat, low-cholesterol and high-fiber gourmet recipes using absolutely no sugar or salt.

"Rodale's Soups and Salads Cookbook and Kitchen Album" has nearly 300 kitchen-tested recipes ranging from basic stocks and traditional soups and salads to adventure-some preparations. Along with the recipes there is page after page of lore, cooking tips, nutritional information and history related to soups and salads.

our opinions

Dedicated to all who have served

On this Memorial Day each of us should take the time to quietly remember our fellow citizens who, throughout our nation's history, have given their lives in time of war. Those who made the supreme sacrifice in historic battles such as Gettysburg, Belleau Wood, Guadalcanal and Pork Chop Hill have always been fondly remembered on this day by a grateful nation.

But there has been an exception.

Our nation, for so long torn by the divisive Vietnam War, never took the time to collectively shed a tear for its soldiers who were dying just a decade ago in places that few now remember. Dak To, Khe Sahn, Hill 881, Zxuan Loc...these nearly forgotten dots on a map of Southeast Asia were where nearly 58,000 Americans laid down their lives in service to a nation that showed little appreciation for their sacrifices.

America wanted to forget Vietnam and few wanted to remember the fallen. But the veterans would not let us forget. In 1979 they began an effort to build a national memorial.

A few months ago on the Mall in Washington D.C. the stately, elegant Vietnam Veterans Memorial was dedicated to all who served. It has gained wide acceptance as over one million visitors have come to view the names of the brave Americans who unselfishly laid down their lives in our nation's longest war.

Upon the walls are listed the names of people like Thomas J. Hayes, Michael D. Rosenwald, Carlos M. Gonzales, Mary Klinker...This time last year they were anonymous casualties of a war America tried to forget. Yet now these names are forever enshrined on the national landscape. The memorial was built, not by the government, but by individual citizens and has probably done more to help heal the nation's festering wounds over Vietnam than anything that has been done. In the spirit of reconciliation, some of the prominent Americans who helped make the memorial a reality include General William Westmoreland and former Senator George McGovern.

So, on this Memorial Day, as we pause to reflect, we can all be thankful that these names will never again be forgotten. Just as we now remember those who fell in Vietnam let us also renew the national effort to assist those who returned. They are at long last now welcomed home thanks to the overdue Vietnam Veterans Memorial.

A girl I know and love is going to start driver's training soon. It's safe to assume, I guess, that she will be taught all the things she needs to know about safety (or "safety", as they've been spelling it on the billboards outside of Westland Center lately).

I'm hoping, though, that once the safety lessons are learned, the instructor will spend a good amount of time talking about courtesy. Boy, I'm tired of drivers who've never learned anything about courtesy. For example:

- I'm tired of drivers who won't pull up into the intersection when they're making a left turn. What are they afraid of? They have a perfect right to be in the middle of the intersection when the light is theirs. When they don't pull up, it means their's is the only car to go through the light. Selfish!

- I'm tired of drivers who don't turn their left turn signal on until the moment they're ready to make their turn. Don't they know that if they gave us some warning, we might have time to move over into the right lane and wouldn't have to wait for them to make their turn? Selfish!

- I'm tired of drivers who screech out of side streets so that they can get ahead of me — even when there's not a single car behind me. Crazy!

- I'm tired of drivers blocking driveways and intersections while waiting for traffic to move. Don't they teach anymore that you don't block driveways or side streets while you're waiting for a light to change? Is it such a terrible thing to allow someone to get in line ahead of you? Dumb!

- I'm tired of drivers who won't merge until the very last instant, even though they've been warned by signs a mile back. They speed up and travel the lane that's going to end, trying to pass as many of the cars that have dutifully merged as possible. I love it when the mergers are "discourteous" enough not to allow space for them to get in. Oh, what games we play on the road!

- I'm tired of non-handicapped people parking in handicapped spaces. Shoot me if you like, but nine times out of ten I've noticed that the inconsiderates getting

52 cents a week will defuse 'time bomb' at Romulus High

One of the most interesting parts of Romulus' Michigan Week Festival was a booth near the front entrance where a display of photographs showed the Romulus Senior High School's ceiling. These pictures revealed the damage done by the leaking roof and students' gouging the surface.

One can plainly see how the asbestos coating has deteriorated. Tests taken by the Michigan Department of Health show that asbestos fibers are being released from the ceiling. The airborne fibers are so small that they will pass through a vacuum cleaner and back into the atmosphere. When inhaled, the fiber is permanently lodged in the lungs.

The Asbestos Removal Committee (ARC) headed by Phyllis Kreft, Sandy Kreitsch, Joan Omarzu, Sylvia Shaheen, and Jeanne Neidermeyer manned the information booth. The group, formed by parents who are concerned about the health of students, is working to inform the community about the problem.

ARC recommended that the Board of Education take immediate action to remove the asbestos-treated ceiling, sprayed on many years ago as an acoustical insulation.

The cost for removal is .6 mills for one year only, less than $12.00 for most homeowners. This is Proposal 1 on the June 13 ballot. Proposal 2 would repair the leaking roofs at the High School, Barth and Halecreek Schools through a bond issue, and would cost approximately $15.60 a year, decreasing each year for the 8 to 10 year life of the bond. The third proposal, for 3 mills to maintain and improve programs, would cost approximately $56.67 a year for 5 years.

The decline in home valuation this year results in more than a 3 mill reduction in the homeowner's tax bill. Thus, the average homeowner's taxes would increase a total of approximately $26.94 or 52¢ a week for the first year.

ARC's members are showing the ABC produced film, "A Dusty Way to Death" to groups within the community. The film presents the dangers of exposure to asbestos through case histories and documented evidence of the horrible consequences for those who contracted asbestosis, mesothelioma, and cancers of the stomach, esophagus, colon, and other organs.

In recent years, evidence reveals the potential of asbestos as a cancer-inducing agent at low-level exposures such as found at Romulus Senior High School. The Environmental Protection Agency and the scientific community have not established a safe level for exposure.

Cigarette smoking combined with asbestos exposure increase the risk of lung cancer five times over the already high risk due to smoking alone. However, there is some evidence that quitting smoking will reduce risk from exposure.

Anyone who is exposed to asbestos dust should consult with a doctor. Regular check-ups could mean earlier detection and may provide a better chance of treatment after contracting the diseases relating to asbestos. Disease symptoms may not become evident until 20 or more years after the asbestos fibers are inhaled.

We cannot afford to expose these kids to the asbestos fallout another year.

If I made such decisions I would not open the High School next September unless the asbestos ceiling was first removed. If the June millage failed, the ceiling would be replaced and the doors remain shut until we could afford to open them, or students would double up and go in shifts at the Junior High School.

No one should fear breathing because of contamination in the air. No one should have to worry about a time bomb going off inside his chest.

PAT DITSCH
Romulus

Courtesy on the road

out of their cars and walking at a steady pace are young people. Shame, shame.

- I'm tired — not just tired, but sick to death — of kids on bikes. They are reckless, careless, silly and/or downright pushy on the road. Don't they realize how vulnerable they are against even a 2,000 lb. car? Why aren't they licensed and given tickets, too? Might save a few lives, if nothing else.

- I'm tired of drivers pulling around me on the freeway and then not allowing enough distance between cars before they pull back in front of me. If they were in such a hurry to go faster than me in the first place, why don't they keep on going faster than me? Why do they have to pull back in front of me and make me slow down? Dumb!

- I'm tired of drivers riding my tail, trying to make me go faster than I want to (I'm not crawling, people — I always go the speed limit or a couple of MPH faster). The way I see it, if the speed limit is 55 MPH, that literally means that an hour after I start, if I can maintain that speed, I will be 55 miles further on down the road. If I insisted on driving 65 miles per hour, I would be 65 miles further on down the road. By speeding, I've gained a whopping 10 miles in an hour's time. Big deal. Is it really worth all the nutty chances you air-heads take? Crazy!

Reminiscing about past Memorial Days

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

The long lines of weathered gravestones in the southwest corner of Woodward Cemetery had always been a silent reminder to many of us who visited the perpetually kept greens that wars are never won. Peace treaties just call a temporary halt to the killings.

In one particular area of the cemetery laid the men who fought in the Spanish-American and World War I. That area would become the final resting place of many who died in World War II.

As a child we would place flowers on these graves. Prompted by the teachers at the nearby school who would teach us about history and battles fought and wars won, we would faithfully visit the cemetery every Memorial Day.

As a youngster I feared the dead and the graveyard. To me death was ominous, and death would not touch my personal life for many years to come. Too young to take part in World War II, my visions of war were celluloid, of the Errol Flynns and the Tyrone Powers soaring into the aircraft that blasted the Jap or Nazi from the skies.

As an adult I felt we betrayed those who were buried in those graves.

When we saw those "Gold Stars" appearing in windows, signifying that someone in that household had given his — or her — life for America, war began to come closer to home. The good guys never died, I believed. And, I knew my brothers would come back from that war because they were on the right side, and the right side always prevailed.

I didn't realize that the Germans and the Japanese and the Italians whom we were fighting in World War II also thought they were the good guys. Moral issues. How many lives have been taken because the military fiercely believed the other side was "weak" and "didn't have the capacity to fight?"

Count the crosses. Millions of them. In each cemetery in this state, in all 50 states, across the world. Surely in one of those graves laid the man or woman who would have eradicated cancer; solved the problems of world hunger; led the first colony to the moon and into outer space.

Wars they say precipitate new ideas, inventions and innovations. A strange business. Exchange human lives, sacrifice loved ones, so that we can learn how many people can be killed by an atomic explosion.

Memorial Day — 1983.

The bands will be playing. The favorite songs and hymns will be sung and the politicians will have their field day with their patriotic speeches at the parades, and most of us will enjoy a 'day off.'

We will again go and place the flowers on the graves of our loved ones, and on those whose identity is only known to us by the name on the gravestone. We will pause and say a prayer.

We can't but wonder what these soldiers would say to us — these men who gave their lives in the North African campaign, on Iwo Jima, Guadalcanal, at Gettysburg and in Belleau Woods — and the thousands of other battle fields.

Did we betray them?

The history of mankind is a history of war and bloodshed, and now it appears we have come to the end of the road. War could mean total destruction for mankind.

Arms limitation, is that the solution?

Ironically, it was a Russian diplomat during the nebulous days before World War II who offered what I believe is the only correct means of arms limitations:

"The way to disarm is to disarm."

In a nuclear age, if a war explodes upon the surface of this earth, the majority of us will not have to worry about Memorial Day or those long rows of crosses.

For who would wish to survive such a holocaust?

Let us pray that there is a Memorial Day — 1984.

PCHA 'member' dispute continues

EDITOR — Pat Norton's concern for the Peoples Community Hospital Authority's members-at-large (of which there are seven) is based on his desire to maintain his power base on the 47-member board of directors of the PCHA.

Members-at-large serve for four-year terms and are not responsible to the taxpayers. They do not serve any single community so it does not matter to them how much they spend of the taxpayers' money.

Norton himself was a member-at-large until a few months ago, when in order to preserve his and (Donald) Pizzimenti's tight knit little group they were faced with the loss of one of their buddies, Roger Remer from Flat Rock. Remer was and is treasurer and chairman of the finance committee of the PCHA.

The City of Flat Rock's mayor and council got fed up with the money being spent by the PCHA so they removed Roger Remer and appointed Mayor Ted Anders to replace him. That didn't phase Norton one iota; he simply resigned as a member-at-large to create a vacancy for Remer and had himself appointed as a representative from the City of Wayne.

As a result Remer never missed a vote.

Another member-at-large from the City of Wayne, who at one time was a very close friend of mine, is Jack O'Brien, former owner of O'Brien's Drug Store in Wayne and who just happens to be Pat Norton's father-in-law.

Jack served when Wayne was a village and Westland was Nankin Township. He moved on and off the board over the years until he could get elected as a member-at-large.

I started in 1947 when PCHA was first formed at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. During my administration (an 18-year period) I had a board of directors made up of 43 men from the 22 participating communities, men like Harold Dietrich, Harley Smith, Norm Stockmeyer, Joe Latham and Ken McKay from the Wayne area. These men were the backbone of the PCHA and the hours they spent working to get hospitals built (with no remuneration) was astronomical.

Teacher honored, pension is cut

EDITOR — An event that occurred last week in Romulus brought home to me a disturbing fact and the realities of the apparent lack of leadership in the Romulus Community School District.

It concerned a retiring teacher. She was honored at the school board meeting on May 9. She was praised for having worked in the community for over 30 years. A resolution was read, and a speech was made honoring her.

Yet, long after these words have faded from her ears, she will remember Romulus not for its generosity, but rather for its hypocrisy. For her pension has been slashed by $39 a month for the rest of her life. It was slashed by a board and administration who offered their praise to her for thirty years of dedicated service to the community.

Women and their bodies

EDITOR — I would like to respond to a recent letter that appeared in your newspaper written by Gino Vitale on the subject of abortion. Mr. Vitale took a strong anti-abortion stance.

First of all, Mr. Vitale said that there have been nearly 15 million pregnancies terminated. According to my sources, fewer than 11 million abortions have occurred since the Supreme Court ruled in favour of legalized abortions.

By this law, no person is forced to have an abortion.

In the Constitution of our nation we are guaranteed the right to privacy.

I believe this means we have the right to control what happens to our own bodies.

In most polls a 65-70 percent majority of Americans oppose an amendment prohibiting abortions.

Many people use their church as an excuse to oppose abortions. The Episcopal Church "opposes any legislation which would abridge or deny the right of individuals to reach informed decisions on abortion and act upon them."

Why should I have to live by any one else's religion?

No law has ever stopped abortion and no law ever will. Laws prohibiting abortion only make it unsafe, killing women.

Prohibiting abortions forces many to have unwanted children.

Many unwanted children are abused, neglected and/or battered by unloving or immature parents. Some are killed or abandoned.

A Carter administration study group on alternatives to abortion are "suicide, motherhood, and, some would add, madness." This group also concluded that giving up a child is far more traumatic than having an early abortion.

'Peace pipe' offered to mayor

EDITOR — Today I have written a letter following up on our pledge requesting to meet with Mayor Charles Pickering or with a mutually agreeable mediator to attempt to settle our differences. The polarization that has occurred and continues to occur is not good for the community.

If the City Council can get some cooperation and information from the Administration we will be willing to reduce the amount of public criticism of the Mayor.

In the past, the Council had depended on the Mayor to provide information and control on the budget. This is not being done and it has resulted in over expenditures in both last year and this year's budget. This is one of the most critical problems facing the city and a meeting is necessary to correct this and other problems.

The Council and Mayor owe it to the community to attempt to cooperate. The council's voting record illustrates this and we hope the Mayor also will recognize this and will approach this meeting in good faith.

Little Leaguer without uniform

EDITOR — This letter is to all parents who have children in the Wayne Grapefruit Major League Baseball. It also can make parents aware of some facts, like when a child brings home something that doesn't belong to him.

Last Thursday evening my husband, who is the coach for the Cougars brought home his team uniforms. We both could not believe the terrible condition these uniforms were in. He doesn't even have enough Cougar shirts to pass out to his team.

So, half of his team will be in Cougar uniforms and the other half will be wearing the Royals uniforms. This is just not our team that has to suffer because the parents DID NOT return uniforms. It is also most of the other teams in Grapefruit Major League that have to suffer along with us.

What have you parents done with your child's uniform from last year?

Did you just forget or did you just not want to be bothered with returning it because it took up too much of your time? For the parents that kept their son's uniform...did you know that is called STEALING?

And stealing is a very serious crime. So, when your child comes home with a shirt that doesn't have the right name of his team on it. Please don't call and blame your child's coach or call the Community Center and complain.

Blame the parents who kept the uniforms last year. Also, when your child comes home with his uniform pants an ugly shade of pink instead of a nice bright white you will just have to thank those parents who did not take a little more pride in their child's uniform.

So for example, at your child's opening game when some member of your family or maybe a friend might say to you, "I thought your son played for the Cougars, why is he wearing a Royals uniform?" Just tell the truth—that most of the uniforms were kept by careless and uncaring parents. Therefore, all the kids have to pay for their ignorance.

On life in Latin America

EDITOR — Help. Since I was the subject of a column written by Tom Mooradian, managing editor, setting the record a little straighter about life and living in Latin America, particularly on the Emerald Coast of Colombia, I have been deluged with mail from your readers.

So, may I, through your letters column, assure them I am most delighted with their responses and will eventually answer each and every letter.

Muchas gracias.

Food for thought

EDITOR — This is "food for thought". Being first isn't necessarily best, (neither is being last). However, Michigan is first in unemployment; first in state dollars going to Washington; first in highest paid legislators.

Michigan is also first to look for new taxes at the expense of its residents and business community; first to listen to special interest groups, at the expense of the taxpayers.

And last to slash taxes and listen to their voters' wishes.

Board should do homework

EDITOR — I would like to share an experience with your readers. At the last meeting of the Wayne Westland Community School Board meeting, (May 8), a vote was taken on a subject that involved the safety and welfare of junior and senior high school students.

Several minutes later, when a vote on another issue was about to be taken, board member Matt McCusker, asked about the previous vote. He apparently didn't realize he had voted and wondered if he had voted correctly.

James LeDuc, board president, informed him he had voted correctly. The audience laughed, but was it at the humor or the stupidity of the situation? I didn't laugh.

At a previous meeting Sharon Scott made a similar "boo-boo". She apparently voted against the administration and it apparently caught LeDuc off guard. He stopped the voting, explained to her what was going on and how she should have voted, then they all revoted. Again there was laughter, but I didn't laugh.

I find it hard to laugh when two elected officials can't stay alert or awake long enough to realize what they are voting on.

I find it hard to laugh when the president of the board has to nudge someone to vote.

Perhaps, we should save time and confusion by just giving the good Mr. LeDuc three votes.

In view of the recent studies regarding the disgraceful condition of public education in the U.S., Secretary of Education Terrel Bell placed the blame on school boards. He said, the voters elect board members to run their school districts and they turn it over to the employees. I wonder what he looks like, because I suspect he has been attending our board meetings.

In last December's election less than 10 percent of the registered voters bothered to go to the polls.

Get out and vote June 13,

'Law Day' coverage great

EDITOR — On behalf of Judge Thomas Smith, I would like to take this opportunity and "thank you" for your outstanding coverage of the annual Law Day activities.

As you know Law Day is a nationwide event that attempts to make persons better aware the role the criminal justice system plays in our society. This year's emphasis was on Michigan's tough new drunk-driving laws. Those local high schools who participated and their constituents who read your paper are more aware than ever of the dangers of drinking and driving.

This year we were fortunate to provide six of the participants with U.S. Savings Bonds. The money to purchase these bonds was donated by the following:

State Senator William Faust, State Representative Justine Barns, Westland Center Merchants Association, Wayne/Ford Civic League, National Bank of Detroit — Cowan/Wayne Rd. branch, and Bank of the Commonwealth — Ford/Newburg branch. I would like to publicly thank those individuals and organizations for their donation and interest in the young adults of our community.

Special thanks to the following persons as well for their involvement:

Mary Ellen Tindall, Dr. Georgina Csereszyne, and Jon Gary of the Wayne/Westland Schools; and Melanie Kozorosky, Student Intern from E.M.U. without the dedication of these individuals Law Day would not have been the success it was.

Once again, thanks for your outstanding coverage of this important and educational event.

reflections

Where there is hope...there is a way

ZION, ILLINOIS...This is the story of the American International Hospital, or rather this is the story of the people of the American International Hospital here in Zion.

In a short time I will tell you the story of Rachel. It is because of Rachel that I am here Rachel has cancer, and this hospital is world-renowned for its unique approach to that dread disease, an on-going research program reaching into the new frontiers of holistic and preventive medicine.

It is called the "oasis of Hope," and during the two weeks I spent in Room 330 I saw that hope in action, and I felt that I was, indeed, sitting in a small oasis where love and caring surrounded Rachel, and that love and caring reached out to encompass the mother of Rachel, and me, the friend.

It was a spiritual experience. The two doctors caring for Rachel were Dr. Ranulfo Sanchez, an oncologist who was on the staff of St. John's Episcopal Hospital, Flatbush General and Baptist hospitals before coming to American International in 1979 and Dr. Alfonso Mellijor, who completed his internship and residency at St. John's Episcopal Hospital and completed a Fellowship in Surgical Oncology at State University of New York, Downstate Medical Center in 1980.

It is natural that one does not talk extensively with two extremely busy doctors, but I sat in that room and observed them...the compassion, the caring for their patient, the patience and understanding and compassion for the mother and I would that I could have let them know what I, a stranger, felt in them as they ministered to those seeking their help. It was best that I not take up their time.

What can I say of the nursing staff? Those beautiful young women in white, who looked upon their jobs as vocations...the vocation of care and caring. There were the two Barbara's, Sandi, Annie, cheerful, happy little Annie, just a mite of a person, who could ease a patient's suffering with the stroke of a tiny hand.

And there was Sofia, serene and beautiful, whose heart could break over the suffering of her patient, and whose serenity eased and calmed.

Barbara, the head nurse, who could bring a sense of joy with her happy smile, and Barbara of the evening staff, who reached out with her heartstrings and held your hand.

Isabel, who remembered two mothers on mother's day with flowers, and Sandi, whose strength and compassion bolstered one when the going was particularly rough.

Vicki, of the healing hands, and the loving heart, and Jennifer, whose gentleness was evident in her every movement. There were so many others, beautiful, loving, caring young women whose lives briefly touched mine, but who will be remembered in the years to come.

I believe there is a special personality adept at working with cancer patients. I believe they are 'old souls' who have experienced and learned throughout the existence of their souls, and I believe there is a special learning that they received at some time, which comes through in their care for those patients.

I am sure this will sound 'way out' to many of my readers, but there is something, something which is indescribable in those young women who can bring hope and love and caring to a patient writhing in torment, or fear; whose touch can calm, whose patience is unlimited and whose compassion permeates the room.

And then there is the support program for patients and their families, with Ruth Hoover, Director, and Dr. Billy Sharp, psychologist, leading the way into discussions about dealing with stress and other emotions in daily sessions in the conference room.

From this group comes the young psychologist, Linda Sims, who once faced death herself, and who approaches each patient with a unique gift of being able to lead that patient into relaxation and visualization, which gives the patient a moment of quiet and relief from pain or fear, and which gives Linda an equally important gift of sharing. She is a beautiful young woman, who has an outreaching and encompassing future in which she will be blessed.

I can't close this column without telling you about Marc Oster, another young psychologist.

I didn't really see Marc at work with any patients, but in talking with him I detected that same caring that seems to permeate each person connected with the hospital. And I found him fascinating, especially after I heard he had another vocation, that somehow, seems unrelated to his chosen field, but undoubtedly is the reason for his interesting personality. He is a Black Belt Instructor!

Both Marc and Linda are doctoral students at Forest Institute of Professional Psychology at Des Plaines, Ill.

And so I will wrap up this column. You can learn all of the technical details of the American International Hospital by writing to them at Zion, Illinois, 60099.

What they will not have in the brochures they send you will be what is impossible to describe in a brochure...the spirit which permeates the hospital...the spirit of love.

If love does indeed heal, then healings should be occurring each day at the American International Hospital.

MEMORIAL DAY

The many brave and gallant
Have fought to keep us free.
The tyrant of oppression
Is a threat to liberty.

We seem to take for granted
What is precious to us all,
Till our mighty strong brave soldiers
Have to answer duty's call.

In sacrifice have we endured
In painful blood and tears,
In six great wars of anguish
That had lasted many years.

Have soldiers died forgotten
To have suffered all in vain,
For us to live in freedom
With advantage of its gain?

The voices from the many graves
In eerie tones abound,
As blood red poppies gather
Thick upon the ground.

Our founding fathers paved the way
For dreams that now lie still,
Beneath the sod of weedy mounds
That made each little hill.

Let us raise old glory
So all the world can see,
To guarantee our heritage Within Democracy.

Our flag of colors flying
With bald eagle on its wing,
As soldiers on Memorial Day
Rise once more to sing.

— Ed Kind

Mad hatters 'run wild' at Tyler

By PAT RICHARDS
(ANP Special Writer)

When Crazy Hat Day was sponsored by the student council at Tyler Elementary in the Van Buren School District, the teachers got into the act.

And when Mrs. Barb Woody tilted her head downward for more than a minute, her 5th grade students thought perhaps she was taking a siesta under her huge brim.

Mrs. Carrie Preuninger wore a smaller version of a Mexican hat so she could keep a good eye on her 1st graders.

Mrs. Elaine Richards wears a little stretchy hat and a cute little smile to match her little first grade class.

"My 6th grade students will never be quite sure if I'm looking at them, or not," laughed Mrs. Sandy Belcher from underneath her Navaho Indian wide brim black hat.

All the world looks up-side-down for Ed Bonczak, Compensatory Education teacher, while sixth grade teacher, Bob Cook matches his hat with his heritage — Scottish.

"I'll tell ya, partner," says Mary M. Murrel fifth grade

Appointed to Park Authority board

County commissioners confirm Hertel

Wayne County Commissioners, last week, approved the appointment of representatives to the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, the county's Planning and Development Commission, and concurred in a resolution to develop a long-range corrections system program.

Commissioner John C. Hertel had his appointment to the Huron-Clinton Park Authority for a 6-year term confirmed replacing William E. Kreger who has served on that Board for nearly a quarter of a century.

Commissioners, while approving Hertel, sent a formal request to Governor James Blanchard asking that he consider Kreger as a gubernatorial selection to the same authority.

Current members of the Planning Commission, Arthur Gibson, recreation; Nathan Johnson, architecture; Eleanor Lawson, real estate; and Francis A. Papke, engineering, were all reappointed.

A long-range corrections system commission plan, sponsored by Commissioners Mary E. Dumas, Jackie L. Currie and John C. Hertel, won the support of other commission members at Thursday's full session. The action clears the way for the first stages of development. "It will require the cooperation of all parties in the criminal justice system," Mrs. Dumas explained,

"if it is to be successful."

"The program is expected to help reduce prisoner population in the county jail by providing alternates to incarceration," she said.

9.9%
Annual Percentage Rate

Last year, Ford Motor Company achieved the highest quality rating of any major American car or truck maker.

Simple logic leads to the conclusion that the best way to measure the quality of anybody's 9.9% annual percentage rate program is to measure the quality of their cars and trucks.

Get 9.9% financing on new Ford small cars.

That includes popular Escort and sporty two-seat EXP. Superior technology and ride quality have made these among America's favorite small cars.

Get 9.9% financing on tough Ford Ranger.

When you purchase any new Ranger except 4x2 gas engine models built before December 1, 1982, you get the 9.9% annual percentage rate.

And that's just the beginning.

As an incentive to buyers who want and need larger cars and trucks, Ford is sponsoring special annual percentage rates that can save you hundreds of dollars over the period you finance your purchase.

If you finance for 12 to 36 months,** you'll get an 11.9% annual percentage rate on any new LTD and Mustang.

If you finance for 48 months, you'll get an annual percentage rate of 12.9%.*

Great deals for truck buyers, too.

The same annual percentage rates of 11.9% for 12 to 36 month contracts and 12.9% for 48 month contracts apply to new light conventional trucks (excluding 6.9 diesels), to new 4x2 gas engine Rangers built before December 1, 1982, and to new Broncos and the all-new Bronco II.

The cash alternative.

If you're a cash buyer, you will receive a check for $300 direct from Ford when you purchase any new Escort, Mustang or EXP.

Some fine print.

You must order your new Ford vehicle from a participating dealer before April 30, 1983. Or take delivery of a new car or truck from stock by May 31, 1983. There is a limit of one per qualified retail buyer and dealer contribution may affect customer savings. See your authorized dealer for details.

* Based on a comparison of three major U.S. auto makers by an independent research firm of 11,000 new car and light truck owners. Study was based on things gone wrong three months after purchase on 1982 model cars and trucks. ** Example of a typical contract with a total cash price of $10,000 with a $2,000 down payment. Your monthly payment would be $265.33 for 36 months at 11.9% A.P.R. or $214.22 for 48 months at 12.9% A.P.R.

Students share musical talents

Students from Kettering School in Westland and Roosevelt-McGrath in Wayne were involved in quite a sharing experience last Friday, reports Elizabeth Potter, the music teacher at McGrath. Fourth-grade students taught by Connie Fox at Kettering entertained youngsters at Roosevelt McGrath with two performances of 'Happy Birthday, Mr. Bach,' a combination of song, dance and dramatization of the famous composer's life. Nearly 600 students viewed the presentation during two assemblies.

MTV changes music industry

By STEVE O'LEARY
Special Writer

It's not at all unlikely that, while watching ESPN or WTBS on cable television, to suddenly see Pete Townshend, Adam Ant, or Mick Jagger telling you to "Demand Your MTV!"

And many have followed that advice—MTV is now hooked up to approximately 85 percent of homes in the United States that have cable.

As a matter of fact, MTV is making the biggest splash in the music business since the phonograph, or at least since the Walkman. A Neilson HomeVideo survey taken in October of 1982 showed that MTV exerts more influence on the record buying public than either radio or conventional television.

The music industry as a whole, which has been on a rapid decline for over three years now, is finally doing an about-face. The reason? According to many executives in the field, it's due to MTV.

Jo Bergman of Warner Bros. Records says "All indications are that MTV is having very positive results on record sales. This is especially true if you're trying to break a new act."

Indeed, if it weren't for MTV, top ten acts like Duran Duran, Def Leppard, The Clash (after five years), Adam Ant, and the Stray Cats probably never would have made substantial splashes in the marketplace. For years, conventional FM radio has shunned anything new, claiming that the people didn't want it if it didn't sound like Journey/Styx/Kansas. Wrong, wrong, wrong.

Daryl Hall & John Oates

It took a whole new medium to convince the radio programmers that new music is easily accessible to the record buying public, if they get a chance to hear it. Now, ironically enough, many radio stations around the country (including Detroit's WABX) get much of their playlist from what is seen on MTV.

One who has never watched MTV may be wondering just what all the fuss is about. And just what is a video?

MTV is a 24 hour-a-day rock music channel on cable. It is offered on the basic service at no extra charge, but for a small monthly fee it can be hooked up to an existing stereo set for true FM quality sound.

Videos are still in their infancy as an art, but it's a fast improving field. Early videos showed little more than the band on a stage-like setting, mouthing the words to their song, sort of like American Bandstand, only without Dick Clark. Today's best videos are often surreal in nature, as Fleetwood Mac's are, or they may be more like Duran Duran's much-acclaimed "Hungry Like the Wolf" video, which is actually a three-minute "Raiders Of The Lost Arc" type film.

Many artists, like David Bowie and the Talking Heads, have been involved in video music for years, calling it the wave of the future. It now appears that they were right on the bottom.

Adam Ant, a very visual performer, says that "Videos are important—especially for European performers. And I owe much of my success in the U.S. to MTV because they've given me the exposure."

Every Saturday and Sunday night, MTV presents their weekly specials, which typically means a live concert on Saturday, and either a rock or cult movie or "Liner Notes," which is MTV's own interview show where from one to four of the top rock performers are interviewed by the station's VJ's.

Also, MTV has major promotional contests every month or so, which have included round-trip tickets for four to see the Who in concert and be given a guitar by Pete Townshend; a "Hawaiian Luau with Pat Benatar," where two people were flown to Hawaii to attend a concert and post-concert party with Benatar and her band; and most recently, the limo used in the Dan Aykroyd movie "Dr. Detroit" was given away. No cheapskates, these guys.

All gimmicks aside, the real reason to watch MTV is for the music, which is rock from one end of the spectrum to roll at the other. Even Detroiters like the Look, who can't get played on the radio around here, are in MTV's rotation with "We're Gonna Rock" and "You Can't Sit Down." Sure they play their share of Journey, but they also stick in The Residents and Yello. After all, fair is fair.

The Legend of Walks Far Woman

Raquel Welch

Raquel Welch, in the role that marked her TV debut, is a 19th-century native American caught in the tragedy and glory of her people's last great stand. Bradford Dillman, George Clutesi and Nick Mancuso.

MON., MAY 30

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)
GHOST DANCING. Dorothy McGuire is a widowed farm owner who rocks the lives of the folks who love her when she dynamites the city-owned reservoir in a grandstand attempt to place the future of her valley's precious water supply on trial. A powerful contemporary drama with Bo Hopkins, Bruce Davison and the wonderful Richard Farnsworth.

WED., JUNE 1

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)

REHEARSAL FOR MURDER. Robert Preston is a clever playwright who arranges an elaborate stage rehearsal in an attempt to trap the killer of his actress fiancée (Lynn Redgrave).

Excitement and glamour of the legitimate stage plus engrossing mystery, written by Richard Levinson and William Link, and cited by the Mystery Writers of America as the winner of the 1982 Edgar (after Poe) as Best Mystery Telefeature. With Lawrence Pressman, Patrick Macnee and Madolyn Smith. If you guess whodunit, then you saw it the first time out.

FRI., JUNE 3

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)

FIGHTING BACK

ROBERT ULRICH
ART CARNEY
BONNIE BEDELIA

A drama of human courage, a sensitive love story and scenes of hard-hitting gridiron action, blending together in the triumphant tale of Notre Dame's Rocky Blier who overcame near-crippling war injuries to star with the four-time Super Bowl Champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

SAT., JUNE 4

9:30-11PM CBS (8:30 Cent./Mount.)

FIGHTING MAD

PETER FONDA

A disillusioned city dweller (Peter Fonda) looking to return to the peace of his father's ranch, finds himself instead in a deadly battle with a ruthless crew of despoilers. Written and directed by Jonathan (Melvin and Howard, Handle With Care) Demme, and co-starring Lynn Lowry, John Doucette and Philip Carey.

TUES., JUNE 7

9-11PM CBS (7 Central/Mountain)

JUST TELL ME WHAT YOU WANT

ALAN KING
ALI MacGRAW
MYRNA LOY
KEENAN WYNN
PETER WELLER
DINA MERRILL
TONY ROBERTS

Multi-millionaire Max Herschel (King) is a wheeler-dealer used to controlling everyone and everything in his domain, including his numerous, pretty young protégées. Ms. MacGraw is Bones Burton, one of those gals who has prospered nicely under Max's benevolence, which turns to malevolence when she runs off and marries a young writer in the person of Weller. Watch for the sensational bang-up scene in Manhattan's famed and exclusive Bergdorf Goodman's, as well as the great Ms. Loy who, with this film, started her seventh (7th!) decade before the cameras.

Westland seniors gather for Jubilarian Ball

The emphasis was on golden May 5 as members of Westland's senior adult community gathered to honor those in their midst celebrating 50 years of marriage.

Five couples, who are observing their golden wedding jubilee, were the center of attention at the city's Department on Aging's annual Golden Jubilarian Ball. They renewed their wedding vows before 18th District Court Judge Thomas Smith and 500 guests.

Honored were Gabe and Junlia Orris, who celebrated their 50th anniversary on March 7; Angelo and Rita Mifsud, who will mark 50 years on marriage on June 1;

Rudolph and Veola Knaut, who have a Sept. 16 anniversary date; Walter and Evalyn Carlson, wedded 50 years on March 3; and Harry and Jessie Potter, who will celebrate their golden anniversary on June 4.

The Orrises were selected as the recipients of two engraved gold watches, provided by Leo's Jewelry and Gifts of Wayne. The Potters had the luck of the draw as they won a three-day trip to Mackinac Island, donated by Community Medical Clinic.

The celebration, which also included the announcement of Westland's Senior Citizen of the Year for Service and for Leadership, attracted a variety of dignitaries, including late Rep. Justine Barnes, Mayor Charles Pickering, Council President Thomas Artley and councilmen Kent Herbert and Robert Wagner.

It also attracted 22 senior couples, who have been married more than 50 years, including Levi and Ann Bartlett, who received a bouquet of roses for being married the longest — 60 years. They also were the winners of a two-day trip next month to the Frankennmuth Bavaria Festival.

Joining the Bartletts in marital longevity were William and Katherine Harvey, married 58 years; John and Ethel Horwath, 58 years; Alexander and Frances Zukosky, 57 years; Thomas and Mary Regan, 57 years; Frances and Juss Freeman, 57 years; Charles and Alta Enlow, 57 years; Joseph and Henrietta Brogowski, 56 years; John and Rena Tripoli, 55 years; John and Blanche Stieber, 55 years; Frank and Elizabeth Neumaier, 54 years; Harvey and Irene Raymond, 54 years; and Frank and Julia Benedict, 54 years.

Also John and Helen McMillian, 55 years; Frank and Opal Dedk, 52 years; Davis and Viola Yearkey, 51 years; Mike and Helen Plesuk, 51 years; Madeline and John Laurence, 51 years; Robert and Dorothy Bowman, 57 years; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jacobs, 59 years; and Ying Chen and Shu Wen Pao, 54 years.

Held prior to Mother's Day, partygoers took time to recognize the mothers, grandmothers and great-grandmothers in attendance, providing prizes for the youngster grandmother, those with the best looking legs and the most recent grandmother, before settling down for an afternoon of dancing to the music of The Avalons.

The party was coordinated by the department's deputy director, Sylvia Kozorovsky.

Plymouth Choir is festival host

The Plymouth Community Chorus, directed by Michael Gross of Westland, will serve as the host group Friday and Saturday for the Great American Choral Festival's national finals.

More than 25 groups which have won state competitions across the country will compete for $70,000 in cash prizes at the national event, to be held at the Power Center for the Performing Arts on the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor.

Youth through High school choral groups will compete on Friday with adult and college groups to match skills on Saturday. An awards ceremony and show of champions are scheduled for 8 p.m. both days.

Tickets, priced at $7, can be obtained by contacting Gross at 595-1126.

Festival slated Sunday

Displays of arts and crafts items as well as musical talent will highlight the day-long Stroh's Motor City Bluegrass and Traditional Music Festival beginning at noon Sunday at the Meadowbrook Festival site near Rochester.

Among the items on exhibit will be handmade musical instruments, pottery, woodwork, basketry, stained glass, woven creations, photographs and folk art.

Joe Turner, who is credited with helping to launch the rhythm and blues era in the 1930s, will perform at 5:30 and 10:15 p.m. Jazz percussionist J.C. Heard and his quintet will accompany Turner.

Other featured performers are harmonica virtuoso Corky Siegal, banjoist Doug Dillard, the Reel World String Band (five-woman ensemble), Five O'Clock, Pat's people and others.

Tickets are priced at $7 in advance and $9 at the gate and are available at all CTC outlets.

Five couples, who are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary during 1983, were the guests of honor at a May Golden Jubilarian Ball, hosted by the Westland Department on Aging. Highlight of the celebration was the renewal of their wedding vows in a brief ceremony officiated by 18th District Court Judge Thomas Smith.

around the house

may 25-26, 1983

A 'doctor' in the house...

In this, the era of specialization, even your house has its own special doctor—he's called a roofing contractor. And, because of his area of expertise is as unfamiliar to you as that of your own medical doctor, you have to be extremely careful when selecting a specialist to operate on the upper area of your home.

It's important that you trust your house's doctor (roofing contractor) rather than feel that he's trying to take advantage of you by performing unnecessary surgery and transplants just to pad his bill.

To help you choose the right expert for your home, here are some tips recommended by the CertainTeed Home Institute.

1. CHECK CREDENTIALS. Call the Better Business Bureau. Also, find out if the contractor is a member of any local organizations, like the local roofing or remodeling contractors association. They can also recommend contractors to you.
2. CHECK REFERENCES. Ask for a list of previous customers. Call them to see if they were satisfied with the work, and ride by their homes to take a personal look.
3. GET ESTIMATES. Request bids from at least three contractors. Be sure contractors are bidding on the same material and quality of workmanship.
4. PAYMENT FOR THE WORK. Reliable contractors will not require final payment until the work is completed. Common practice is to request 50 percent down, and the balance upon completion.

Once you've selected your specialist, the CertainTeed Home Institute strongly suggests:

INSIST ON A WRITTEN CONTRACT

This document is your best assurance that the job will be completed to your expectations. It's also recommended that the following items be spelled out:

- Precise materials to be used, including brand names.
- Precise work to be done.
- Completion date of the job, and any penalties if not done.
- Warranties on the material.
- Installation method—to meet local building codes and to be in accordance with manufacturer's instructions.
- Who is responsible for cleaning up afterward.
- Whether or not the contractor is adequately insured—for his own personnel and for your home.
- Total price, including the exact method of payment.
- Also, remember that you can change your mind even after signing a contract. The law allows cancellation of any contract signed in your home within 72 hours of signing.

ONE FINAL NOTE: If you choose wisely, your house's doctor will probably provide better service than your medical doctor—because the doctor for your house still makes house calls.

Home improvement: a lifetime investment

Your home is probably the single largest investment you'll ever make. Guaranteeing an excellent return on that investment, both while you're living there and if you decide to sell, requires smart improvement planning.

When asked about home improvements, most people think of remodeling the kitchen or adding a bathroom. But there are other, less expensive improvements you can make which will make a real difference in the quality and longevity of your home.

Start from the bottom and work your way up. The basements of many homes have leaks and seepage which can be controlled easily by applying a sealant to wall and floors. Ask at a local hardware store for the best buy.

Is your clothes dryer vented to the outside? If not, it's pumping wetness into your home during the summer, causing mildew and warping of furniture, walls and woodwork. Don't delay in adding an outside vent.

On the other hand, lack of proper moisture can be equally as damaging to the structure of your home and its furnishings. Door and window frames will shrink and let in chilling drafts. Furniture will become brittle and plaster walls can dry and crack.

If you install a central humidifier on your heating system, you can control the vital humidity in your home, especially during dry winter months. There are models available for virtually every type of heating system.

A properly humidified home requires less heat to maintain a comfortable temperature. Select a unit which allows you to dial down your thermostat and save on energy bills. That's the kind of home improvement that pays off at resale time.

Another high value improvement would be the installation of a non-electronic high efficiency air cleaner. This relatively inexpensive addition to your forced air furnace will remove virtually all the dust, pollen and pollutants from the air circulating through it.

Clean air in the home is not only healthier for your family, but also for your furnishings, carpeting and walls. You'll find that you won't have to redecorate as often. Ask your local heating and air conditioning dealer about improving the air quality in your home, or call toll free 1 800 356-9652.

Summer patio, summer pleasure

Do you want a resort reservation that's good for the whole summer? At a pleasant outdoor spot reached without traffic troubles? With fully equipped kitchen, warm bath facilities that function, beds and closets just like those you're used to?

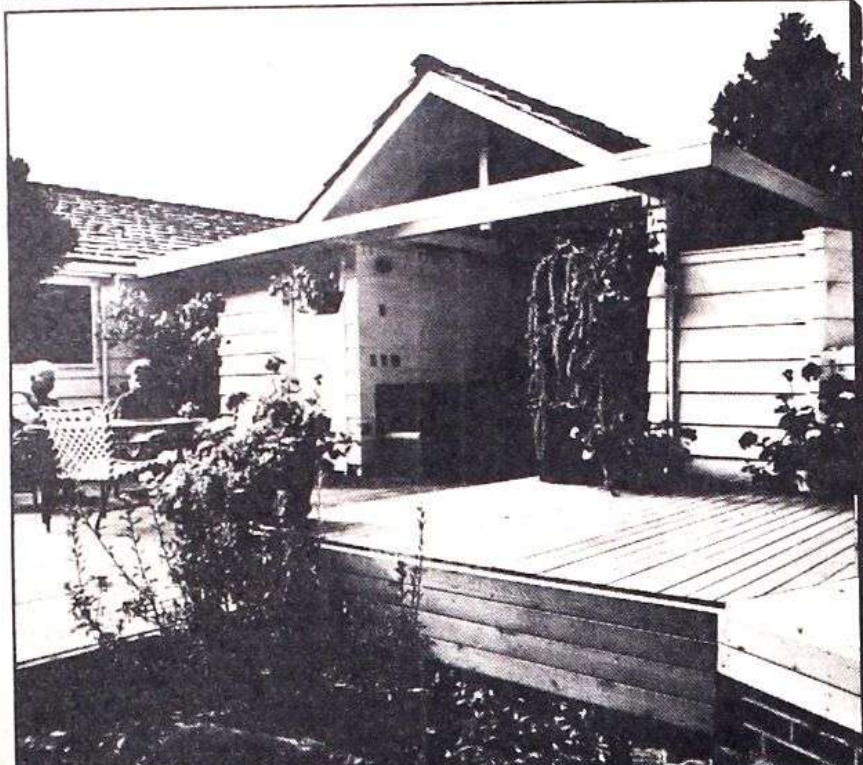

This sounds suspiciously like home, though it may lack the outdoor place. You can have that, too, by transforming the backyard into your own private park. Then that all-summer reservation becomes a sure thing.

A large-enough deck close by the house for convenience, a fence or two-sided solid screen, fronted by planters all-abloom, are the key elements. A picturesque arbor or pergola out under the trees can come along later.

How to start? First, make a sketch of the yard. Plot the spots for new decking, screens, fencing and plantings. Move them around freely to gain the most pleasing layout.

At this point a landscape architect might well earn his fee in assuring future satisfaction. But you can create your own plan. Publications filled with design ideas are available at libraries and book shops.

Solid lumber is the odds-on favorite for garden structures, and a superior species is western red cedar.

This trim and cozy garden house and spacious decks, with hot tub and fire pit, create a major backyard mecca for family and friends.

Its warm tones and texture blend with all outdoor hues; it's easy to work with and mistakes are easily corrected.

A basic size for a deck is 16 by 16 feet, as that best utilizes common lengths of lumber. But a deck can be almost any size and shape that can be supported well on posts and joists. Jogs and cut-outs to save trees are worth the extra detailing.

Steps will link the deck to ground level; make them wide with deep treads. A deck that's more than two feet off the ground must have a railing, and this can be combined with built-in benches.

How to utilize a yard that rises toward the back can be a puzzle. A rock garden and terraces are one answer. One owner of a shallow yard claimed the up-slope for a sunning deck, and it's a charmer.

A side-yard deck, like a sidelong glance, may offer more than at first one suspects. The possibilities demand investigation.

On a sloping lot, that strip along the side of the house may seem a liability, unresponsive to landscaping and care, perhaps the route of a slippery path that's little used.

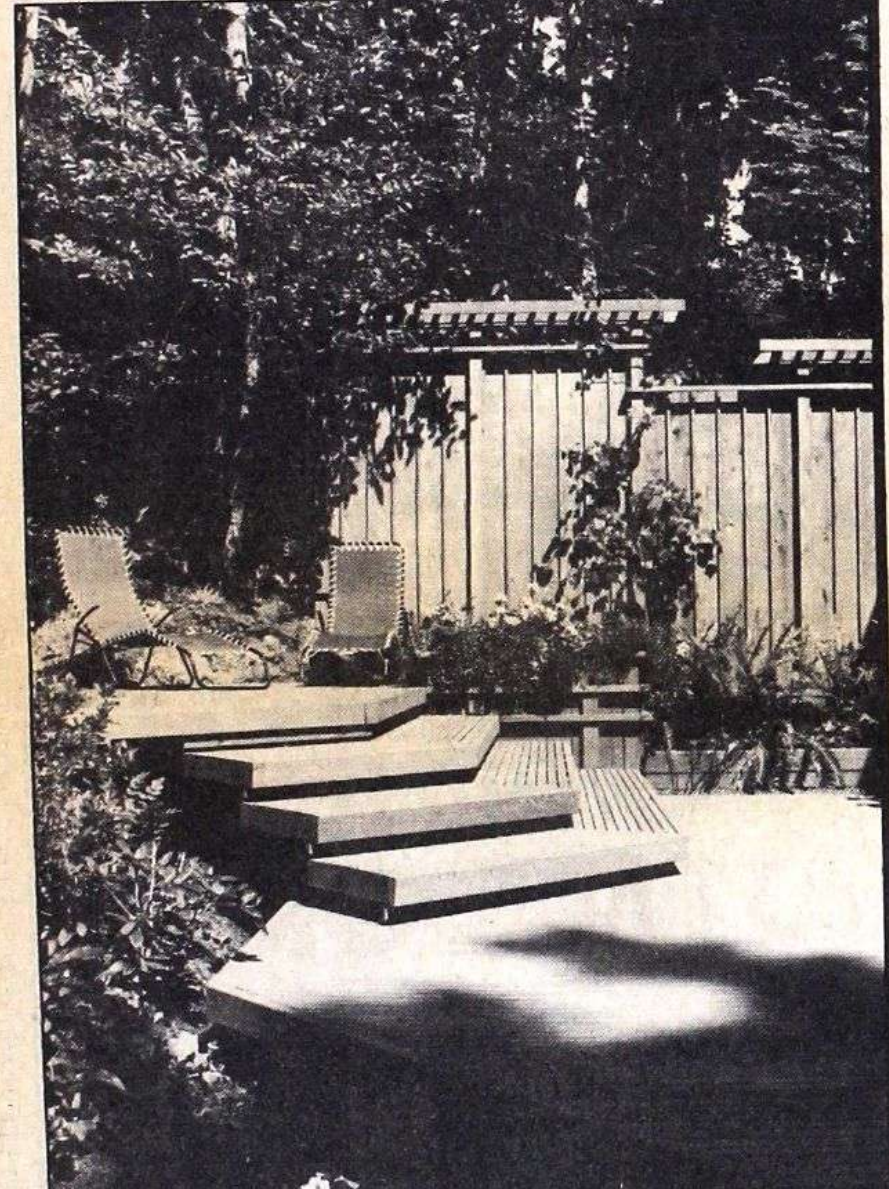

But that may be just the spot for a quiet, out-of-the-way deck for undisturbed sunning and snoozing. If the backyard is steep, the side deck leaves the back expanse of house uncluttered with balcony and railing that can disrupt the view, whether it be a distant vista or your own garden.

For a home with a daylight basement, steps descending from the upper living level may obstruct the garden view from the lower windows. That understructure seldom is really aesthetic, and efforts to dress it up might narrow the low view even more.

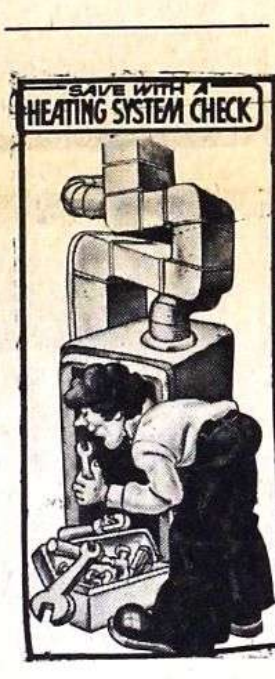

Move those steps over to the end and tie them in with a deck at the same level as the upper floor. The deck can be reached by means of a narrow balcony or walkway, or simply through a sliding door from Spacious secluded sunning deck utilized a side yard, with artfully crafted steps and railing leading to a down-sloping yard.

Gracefully angled steps trace the natural slope onto this deck

Save summer energy--insulate now

Why does a home need thick insulation in its walls, floor and attic when it's 80 degrees outside or even hotter?

Many homeowners might say it doesn't at all.

"People often think of insulation strictly as a cold weather product," explains B.G. Woodham, Jr., of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation, a leading manufacturer of glass fiber insulation.

"That, however, can be a costly misconception given today's soaring electrical rates that make it more expensive for some homeowners to air-condition their homes than to heat them."

The basis for this misconception, the Owens-Corning technical services manager suggests, is confusion about the way a home loses and gains heat, and the way insulation works to help cut these losses and gains.

"Regardless of outside or inside temperatures," Woodham explains, "there is only one form of energy: heat. When there is a temperature difference inside and outside, there will be a heat flow."

Consequently, when it's 80 degrees outside, for example, and the temperature inside your home is lower — say 70 degrees — heat from outside will enter your home.

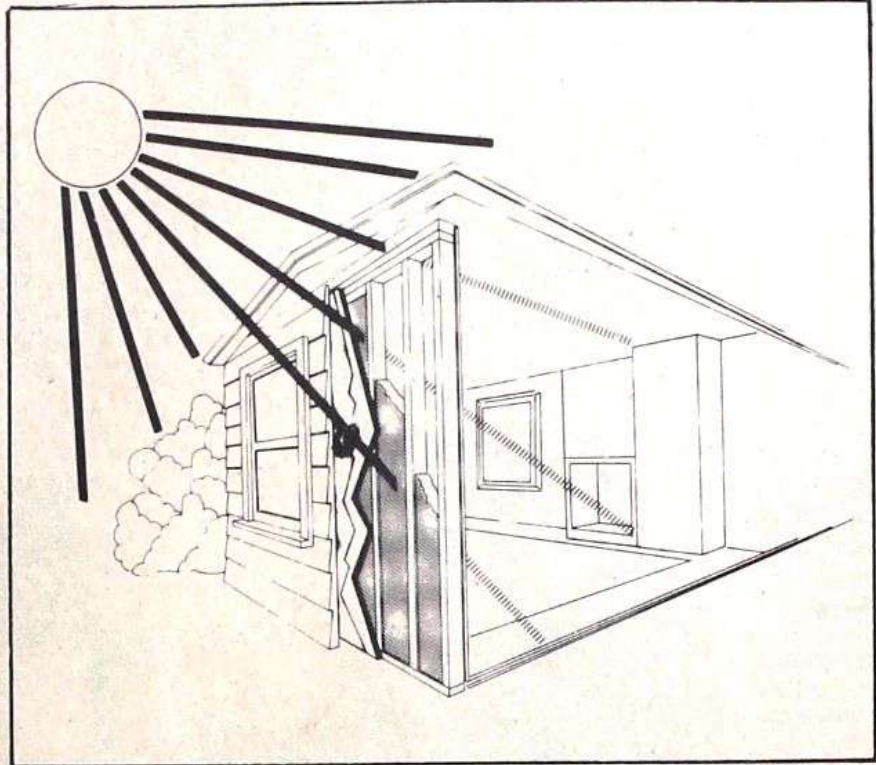

Not only does this make the home less comfortable, it also triggers the air-conditioning thermostat.

If you already have the proper amount of insulation in your home — relax.

Woodham explains that the fiberglass insulation comprises millions of glass fibers that create tiny pockets to trap air and slow down the transfer of heat — into or out of the home.

Thus, insulation which helps keep heat inside your home in winter, also helps keep heat from entering your home in summer.

"Since your air-conditioner runs less, you

Many homeowners may not realize that insulation works as well in summer as it does in winter at cutting energy costs. As seen here, insulation in the sidewall and attic helps reduce heat gain, keeping the home cooler.

use less electricity and pay lower energy bills," Woodham points out.

If, on the other hand, your home is uninsulated or under-insulated, you may want to correct this deficiency.

"Your local utility or building supply dealer can tell you exactly how much insulation your home should have," Woodham says.

Stay cool, save energy

It's easy to stay cool and save energy at the same time. All it takes is finding out how to use your air conditioner most efficiently.

The single most important factor, according to the National Energy Watch, is to make sure you have a unit that is the correct size for the area you're cooling. Room air conditioners are labeled with an Energy Efficiency Rating (EER). This tells you how efficient the unit is when compared to other models, and how much it will cost to run it for one year. The EER is the ratio of the cooling capacity of the unit compared to the amount of electricity it uses.

You know that your air conditioner is a big energy user. Set the thermostat on your air conditioner to 78 degrees, instead of 72, and you'll cut down on the amount of energy it's using. Installing an old fashioned ceiling fan will help circulate the cold air from your air conditioner. Even when used alone studies show that ceiling fans, like the ones made popular by the movie Casablanca, use no more energy than a 15 watt light bulb and can reduce room temperatures by 10 or 12 degrees.

Sunlight streaming into a room can create a lot of heat. On sunny days, lower the shades, close the blinds, and draw the drapes to protect windows from the sun.

Avoid, if you can, installing a room air conditioner in a window that gets lots of sun; it makes the air conditioner work harder and wastes electricity. If you have a choice, put the unit on the north or east side of the house, or in a shady location.

Investment

These improvements are a smart investment to make in the future of your home. They will pay you back many times over by protecting the structure of the house and everything in it.

This pay-back criteria should also be used when planning major home improvements. Ask yourself, will I be able to recoup the cost of the project if I sell my house sometime in the future?

If the answer is no, make sure the project at least has "value" to you while you're living there.

A second or third bathroom, particularly off the master bedroom, is a strong selling point in a home. So is a remodeled kitchen with energy-saving appliances.

Carefully consider the other homes in your neighborhood when planning improvements. For example, family rooms are popular in the suburbs, but in the city there's more demand for versatile living space such as a third bedroom.

A built-in swimming pool would be fun for the whole family. But when it comes to resale time, will that pool place a much higher price tag on your home than others nearby? Garages are usually worth the investment in colder climates,

Don't settle for less than 1st quality!

"With this information," he adds, "you're only a weekend away from a more comfortable, energy-efficient house."

What specific areas of the home need insulation in the summer?

The attic is usually the best place to start, says the energy expert.

"If you have an unfinished attic or an unfinished floored attic, you can 'do it yourself' and save money," he says. "If the area under the attic floor is not accessible, call a local contractor."

Other areas of the home that Woodham says do-it-yourselfers should insulate for summer protection are underneath the home such as crawl space walls, basement walls and the underside of the floors.

"Generally, if insulation has not been installed in these areas, and they are accessible to work in, they can be treated by the DIY homeowner," he says.

He suggests these basic guidelines for the insulation do-it-yourselfer:

The only tools required are a sharp knife, a straight-edge, a ruler, a pair of work gloves and safety glasses. Installation is simply a matter of measuring the area to be insulated, cutting the material to fit, and laying it in place.

Check with the dealer or utility about what R-value to buy to bring your home up to the levels recommended by the Federal Housing Administration (R-value indicates insulation's thermal efficiency. Savings vary — higher R-values mean greater insulating power.)

AMAZING NEW HEAT MIRROR™

Provides 65% better insulation than double glazing.

Out-performs triple glazing by 38%.

Now Nu-Sash replacement windows offer an invisible, transparent heat shield that keeps summer heat out and winter heat in without loss of natural light or visibility.

This new heat shield in a thermal insulated Nu-Sash double-glazed window means a more comfortable home year round.

Heat Mirror is a totally new concept, the first breakthrough in glass insulation technology since double glazing. Researched and developed by a team of scientists and engineers, financed by a grant from the Department of Energy and 7.5 million dollars from private investors, Heat Mirror has been proven successful.

This is tomorrow's window today and only Nu-Sash replacement windows has it. Call now for a free, no-obligation demonstration. You'll see why Nu-Sash, the original replacement window, is the best, most energy efficient replacement window you can buy!

Air infiltration?

Leaks may rob home of energy

According to the reading on your home thermostat, you should be feeling as warm as a Fourth of July bonfire. So how come you need a pair of gloves and woolen socks to keep the blood circulating?

The problem is most likely the result of air infiltrating through cracks around windows and doors, whereby warm air seeps out and cold air enters. Caused by a variance in the air pressures inside weatherstrip a double hung window is to tack strips of felt inside the channels and at the top and bottom of the sash. It should be applied on the inside where water cannot get into the felt and freeze. Triple-fin plastic weatherstripping, which is shaped like a pinwheel with three fins of different thickness, can also be used. One of the fins is inserted into the crack between the sash and the window frame, and the other

- where storm windows meet the window frame
- at corners formed by siding
- between porches and the main body of the house
- around exterior openings such as outside water faucets and electrical openings
- where the fireplace chimney meets the siding

Caulk is sold in a cylindrical tube, which slips into a caulking gun for application. There are a number of different types of caulk sold. They include:

Oil base or resin-based compound caulk, which is the least expensive and has the shortest life. These caulks perform best when applied at about 60 degrees or more. A primer must go on a porous surface, such as unfinished wood or concrete, before applying.

Latex, which if applied correctly, may last many years. The material must go over a primed surface, and the temperature must be at least 40 degrees. When used outdoors, a coat of exterior paint is a necessity.

Butyl, which must also be applied at a minimum of 40 degrees, but does not need a primer or coat of paint outdoors. It should last at least as long as the latex.

Silicone, which is the most expensive, but has the potential to last several decades. It requires a primer, but cannot be painted. Unlike caulks, it is resilient and is ideal for joints. It can be applied in below freezing weather.

Neoprene, hypalon and polyurethane are on the level and within the same price range as the silicones.

All caulks must be applied over a clean, dry surface. Previously applied and dried or crumbling caulk, peeling paint, mildew and dirt, if not removed, can render the caulk ineffective.

To determine whether a storm window fits properly, look for condensation buildup. Condensation on the inside indicates a leak on the outside, condensation on the outside means there is a leak inside.

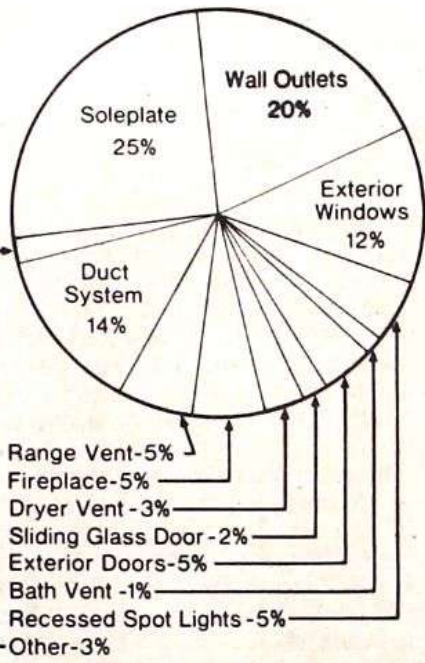

Check for air leaks around window and doors by running a hand along the edges on a windy day.

Air Infiltration Can be Sneaky

Air Leakage Test Results

and outside the home, infiltration can mean extremely high energy bills and terribly uneven household temperatures. Some estimates of total infiltration losses, for example, run as high as 30 to 40 percent of the annual energy costs.

Weatherstripping — used between two moving surfaces, such as a window sash and casing — and caulking — used to form a seal between two stationary objects, such as around a door and window frame — are two of the best, most economical, solutions. Experts believe the expense of weatherstripping and caulking a home are realized by savings in energy costs within one year.

First, check to see if there are air leaks around windows and doors. You can do this by feeling around these edges on a windy day or by shining a flashlight at night along the window and door edges to see if the light penetrates — you have a leak if it does. It can be determined whether storm windows fit properly by looking for ice or condensation buildup. Condensation on the inside window means a leak on the outside window, while condensation on the outside window indicates a problem with the inside window.

In buying weatherstripping, be sure to purchase a product designed for the windows you have, either hinged (which includes casement, awning, jalousied and tilting) or doublehung, which is recognizable by two sashes hung in separate channels that can be pushed up or down.

The most inexpensive way to two fins form a tight seal against the window frame.

V-shaped weatherstripping can also be used on double hung windows. It is less visible than the triple-fin and easier to install than the felt.

Clear and U-shaped weatherstripping is ideal for metal-framed casement windows. The U-shaped, however, won't work on wooden framed casement windows. Instead, foam or vinyl weatherstripping with adhesive backings are preferred.

Weatherstripping applied to a door can cause problems if done improperly. For example, plastic weatherstrip tubing changes its properties when exposed to low temperatures. Extremely low temperature may cause the door to lock.

If spring metal or V-strip weatherstripping was previously installed on a door, it may have flattened out over time, losing its effectiveness. You may be able to improve its use by springing it out slightly with a screwdriver.

There should be weatherstripping on all doors that separate heated and unheated space, including entrance doors, basement doors and attic access doors. Seams around door and window frames usually have to be recaulked over a period of time. You should annually check the following areas to see if new caulking is needed:

- exterior joints where window and door frames meet the siding
- where storm windows meet the window

Brick...a patio pizazz

Many of today's homeowners are stuck with dull, unimaginative concrete patios. If you have finally decided to put down a patio that has more pizzazz... here's news for you!

No longer do you have to wait until you can afford a professional tile setter to install an expensive slate or quarry tile.

The Z-Brick Company, who for years has led the market in the facing brick and stone industry, has recently introduced a new dense and durable flooring system.

New Z-Brick Floor Tile looks like the kind of flooring that only a professional could install. And, until recently, only a professional could! Now, with Z-Brick Floor Tile, there's no need to wait until you can hire a professional to install your new patio... in just a couple of days, you can install a new professional-looking floor yourself.

Due to a special patented process, the Z-Brick Company is able to manufacture this new all-mineral floor product with a permanent durable finish comparable in appearance and performance to many ceramic tiles.

This new tile is manufactured by modern production techniques in a nonenergy consuming process and is available across the country. Extensive testing has shown that Z-Brick Floor Tile equals — and sometimes surpasses — the performance of comparable hard tiles.

Tests have shown that this new product has substantial stain-resistance capabilities and is less slippery than many tiles designed for bathrooms.

Z-Brick Floor Tile is firesafe and carries a Class One Fire Hazard Rating. The composition of this floor tile is homogenous which means it maintains its appearance for a longer time.

With this new Z-Brick Floor Tile, the grout, adhesive and installation tools are all packaged for do-it-yourselfers. This means complete one-stop shopping for a new floor for your home.

And, to further alleviate potential problems in installation, a Z-Brick Floor Installation Kit is available. This kit contains an adhesive spreader, a grout bag, a scribe and a stirring bit.

This new floor tile is available in four styles and colors: a rich brown eight-inch square, "Marquis II," two Pavers, "Desert Tan" and "Rustic Slate," and an "Old Georgian Floor Brick." The Desert Tan and Slate Pavers have square-cut edges and are uniform in dimension from one tile to another — so you can use them without grout.

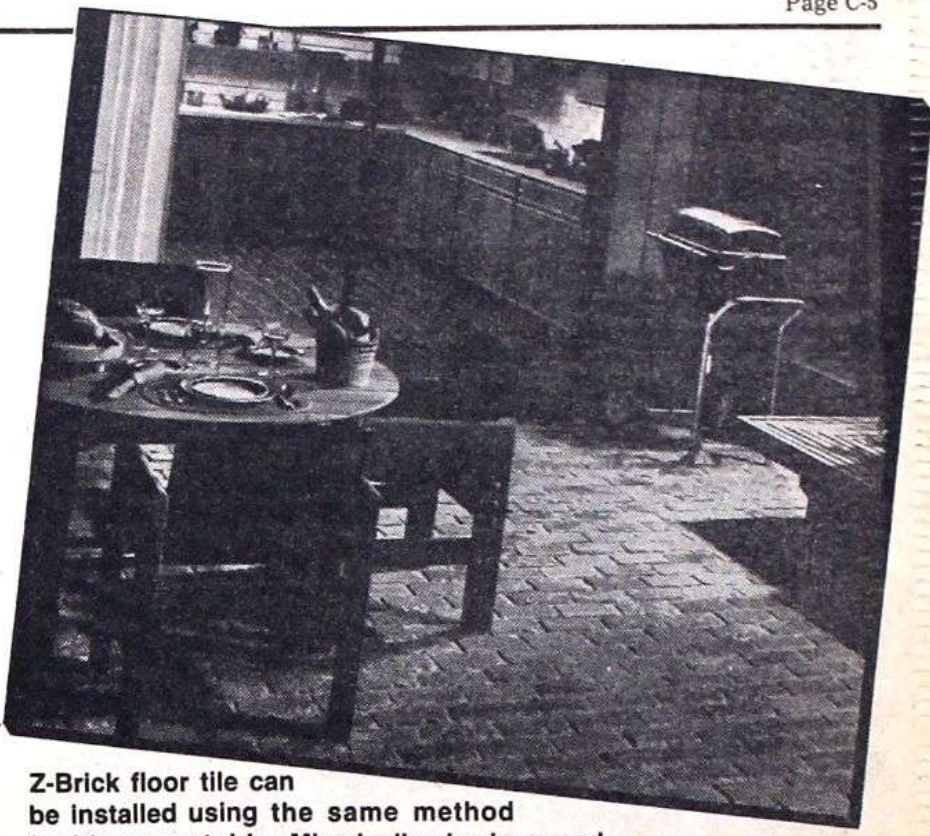

All you need to do for this "groutless" application is spread the adhesive and imbed the tiles, butting them together.

The "Old Georgian Floor Brick" has irregular edges and colors, and was molded from the actual bricks from the Loew's Grand Theater in Atlanta, site of the 1939 Premiere of Gone With The Wind... talk about authenticity!

Because of its permanent finish, the tile can be used inside or outside.

The Old Georgian Brick is a popular design for exterior patios, walkways, solariums, greenhouses and breakfast rooms. The authenticity of the brick looks right at home in a room enhanced with greenery and/or antiques.

All of the new Z-Brick Floor Products are now available at your local home centers. Or, for more information, write: Z-Brick Floor Products, MPPT, Woodinville, WA 98072.

Z-Brick floor tile can be installed using the same method inside or outside. Mixed adhesive is spread with a notched trowel. While wet, tiles are imbedded and then grout squeezed in between tiles for a professional look.

Taking a good look at window replacement

Each year, as America's energy supply grows critical, fuel costs skyrocket and home mortgage and interest rates soar, more and more citizens are making the ultimate decision to keep their homes. The plain and simple fact is that it's just too expensive to move into another newer and more modern home. Therefore, the average homeowner must look to ways into which his home can become more energy efficient in order to avoid excessive fuel bills. The most common place to start are the windows and Uncle Sam will help pay for it.

The Federal Government is offering an income tax credit of up to $300. for the purchase and installation of thermal insulated replacement windows. Custom built to size, replacement windows have the advantage of sealing up old, leaky openings, while actually beautifying the house.

T.H.E. window company offers a custom built, insulated replacement window, tailored to serve the dual purpose of conservation and beautification. The window is made of a heavy gauge aluminum, with a maintenance free, baked on acrylic finish. Because the window utilizes double insulated glass, there is no need for a storm window. The locking system is heavy metal for security, and the window tilts in for cleaning, making it possible to clean the outside and inside of the window from inside the home.

To fight the common problem of window sweating, T.H.E. replacement windows are constructed with a complete thermal break design, that is to say, a polyurethane layer is built right into the window frame, as well as the sash. This virtually eliminates any metal to metal contact within the unit, thus eliminating the conduction of heat and cold, therefore minimizing condensation.

It is a fact that windows alone make up one-third of the outside walls of a home. This is one of the primary reasons why T.H.E. window company builds, and installs a product that practically eliminates maintenance, cuts down on fuel bills, while substantially improving the appearance, value and security of a home.

All units of T.H.E. Window Company's insul-sash replacement windows feature the exclusive use of solar-guard tinted glass. T.M. This glass is actually Ford Motor Company's sunglas, T.M. an energy saving glass for the homes. Ford sunglas actually stops 24 percent of the sun's heat, making it the best way to bring down the cost of cooling a home, by absorbing, radiating and reflecting the sun's rays. Sunglas gets its sun-blocking ability from the same principle used in tinted glass for automobiles. Only 174 BTU's per square foot are transmitted through sunglas. It stops 56 BTU's before they can add to the air conditioning load. That's a 24 percent reduction in heat transmission, and a significant energy savings for the homeowner.

Finally, T.H.E. Window Company realizes that the installation of a replacement window is as important as the product itself. It is to this end, therefore, that they employ their own, factory trained installers. The added advantage to the homeowner is obvious. As a matter of fact, T.H.E. Window Company's insul-sash replacement windows carry a dual warranty covering the window and the installation.

T.H.E. Window Company is licensed by the state of Michigan. They are also members of the National Home Improvement Council and The Better Business Bureau. T.H.E. invites any homeowner with a question concerning replacement windows to call them at 964-0688.

Do you need...

Measure to determine how much insulation you buy, and find out whether you will need a vapor barrier.

Make any necessary repairs in the area to be insulated (roof, floors, etc.)

Lay batts or blankets in the attic right on the unfinished floor between the joists; or right on the finished floor. A new layer of insulation should be laid perpendicular to the existing layer.

In the basement, insulate the space between where the basement ends and the floor above begins (called the "band joist") by cutting strips of unfaced insulation and tucking them snugly into place.

As in the winter, homeowners should also caulk and weatherstrip around windows and doors for even greater summer energy efficiency.

For more information on how to install insulation, write for a free booklet: Meeks, Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation, Fiberglas Tower, Toledo, OH, 43659.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP PUBLIC HEARING MINUTES (CURFEW ORDINANCE) May 16, 1983

The meeting was called to order by Supervisor Craven at 6:00 P.M. Present on roll call: Supervisor Craven, Treasurer Hall, Clerk Dudick, Trustees Jahr, Maton, Montgomery. Trustees Kureth arrived at 6:10 P.M. Also in attendance were Chief Keller and Patrolman Joe Davies. Supervisor Craven began the meeting by stating that the Public Hearing was called to discuss an ordinance to provide a curfew for children under the age of 16 years, and to provide a penalty for this violation. Discussion took place. The State of Michigan has an ordinance to provide for this which all the board members had a copy of. Chief Keller said that there were some problems in the township especially in Van Buren Estates with children out walking on the streets very late in the evening talking loudly and generally disturbing the neighbors in their homes. On the State Ordinance, under section 1 the curfew for children under 12 years old the time should be changed from 5:00 a.m. till 6:00 a.m. It is the Township's desire to adopt a local ordinance word for word from the State Statute so that we may have local control. There were no citizens in the audience and no further comments were made. Motion Hall Support Dudick to adjourn the public hearing. Motion Carried. Adjournment at 6:15 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Debbie Marshall Acting Secretary Publish: 5-25-83

Crime prevention

Carelessness can cost you

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the sixth in a series of articles written by Cathy Horste, Van Buren Township Crime Prevention Officer and Michigan State Federation of Women's Club's Crime Reduction Chairman. The series is aimed at crime reduction and prevention.)

By CATHY HORSTE

All too often, boat enthusiasts find themselves literally up the proverbial creek — or some other body of water — without a paddle, a motor or even a boat.

The reason is simple carelessness.

Boaters know and practice water safety rules. Most obey the navigational laws. However, many fail to put into practice the simple crime prevention techniques which, if used diligently, may well prevent the theft of their boats or valuable boating accessories such as motors, life jackets, skis, oars and CB radios.

Sailing will be much smoother if you remember these simple crime prevention tips:

- Small boats are easy to steal, transport away and conceal. If it is necessary to leave a small craft unattended, secure it with a good lock and a tempered steel chain fastened to a solidly fixed post or a tree. The boat is only as secure as the object to which it is chained.

- Larger boats should also be securely fastened. In addition, remove some necessary part of the engine, such as the rotary cap, so that thieves cannot start the engine.

- Register your boat with the Watercraft Division of the Secretary of State's office. In addition to the watercraft numbers required by the Secretary of State, inscribe your drivers license number on the boat in an inconspicuous place. A thief can remove the watercraft numbers but chances are they would never notice your drivers license number. They may still steal your boat, but the police will be better able to prosecute the thief and return your property to you if it is well marked.

- When you leave your boat, remove all unsecured items. Don't just put the boat cover over them. Lock your outboard motor securely to the transom.

The captain is always responsible for the safety of the craft. Don't get caught high and dry. For more information about this or other crime prevention topics, contact Officer Horste, Van Buren Township Crime Prevention Unit, 699-2003.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP SPECIAL BOARD MEETING MINUTES MAY 19, 1983

Meeting was called to order by Supervisor Craven at 4:30 p.m. Pledge of Allegiance. Present on Roll Call: Supervisor Craven, Clerk Dudick, Treasurer Hall, Trustees Jahr, Kureth, Maton and Montgomery. Absent: None. Meeting was called to consider Application for Supplemental Allocation of Community Development Block Grant Funds.

Treasurer Hall explained additional money is a result of the Emergency Jobs Funds from Washington. If Application is approved funds will be used to provide on-the-job training, for residents of Van Buren Township who have been unemployed for at least 15 of the last 26 weeks, in the area of sales and marketing with Coca-Cola. Applicants for employment will be screened and referred from MESO. This will be a joint venture between Van Buren Township and Coca-Cola. Due to time limits imposed by Wayne County Application must be delivered by Friday, May 20, 1983.

Trustee Jahr asked for additional information, as to how funds will be used? Treasurer responded Coca-Cola will use funds for training, instructor, classes, supplies, etc., for full-time employment of 4-6 people, however, wages will be paid by Coca-Cola.

Motion by Dudick, supported Montgomery to approve Application for Supplemental Funding under the Community Development Block Grant Program, as presented. Carried.

Motion Maton, support Montgomery to adjourn at 4:45 p.m.

MINUTES OF A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD HELD ON MAY 16, 1983

Special Meeting opened by Supervisor Reeves at 5:00 P.M. with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Roll Call Showing:

Present: Supervisor Reeves, Clerk Banotai, Treasurer Hoffman and Trustees: Morgan and Humphreys

Absent: Huziak and Bevins
Excused: Huziak and Bevins

Also present: Wayne County Road Commission Maintenance Engineers Dresselhouse and Ollila, Deputy Clerk Sienko and five interested citizens.

Motion by Humphreys, supported by Morgan to accept the agenda. Motion carried unanimously.

Agenda

1. Pledge
2. Roll Call
3. Approval of Agenda
4. Discussion of Road Chloriding
5. Adjournment

Dresselhouse opened the discussion of road chloriding in Sumpter Township. Michigan Transportation Fund of 1981 directed they look at the cost of chloriding the Township roads. As a result of this, letters were sent to the Townships that the Road Commission could no longer afford to chloride the roads. The Townships asked for a hearing. All nine (9) Townships were represented. They discussed the funding of the chloride. The Townships asked that they hold off for 90 days, that was a year ago last June, so a program could be implemented. Nothing came of this as nothing was offered.

Dresselhouse stated they chlorided once last year and none this year. The dollars just aren't there.

Maintenance of the roads comes from the Michigan Transportation Fund, that is funded by Michigan's 13¢ gasoline tax and the license plate fee.

The state receives about $28,000,000 for the maintenance of primary roads and $2,000,000 for the maintenance of local roads.

The funding for the Township is figured by the amount of roads and population which comes to about $92,100 for Sumpter Township road maintenance. Last year the county spent $480,000 in Sumpter Township.

The cost of chloriding is $600 per mile. Sumpter Township has approximately 60 miles of local roads. That would mean approximately $36,000 per application.

Banotai asked Dresselhouse why the monies that was not used for salt on the road, due to the mild winter, could be used for chloride. Dresselhouse stated that due to Board policy that money could not be used for chloride.

Mr. Dresselhouse stated that Wayne County is the only County that puts down its own choloride.

Morgan stated that we have a problem with our roads and we asked him here to help us solve the problem.

Mr. Dresselhouse said he just couldn't come up with a solution other than the Township and/or citizens hire a contractor and pay to have the work done. Must go the County first for a permit. They will in turn grade the road first and it calcium chloride, cannot be oil. Suggested 'spot application' to cut down the cost. Chloride only in front of homes, not open spaces where there are no homes.

The truck the County uses has a 7,000 gallon tank load that will do about 3 1/2 miles at $600 per mile.

Alternative could be several citizens getting together and hiring a contractor to do in front of their homes. Township could purchase flake chloride and sell it to the citizens at cost ($11 per hundred pound bag) or contract the County at $600 per mile.

Humphreys questioned cities and villages receiving their own funds from the Transportation Fund. What can the County do to help us alleviate the situation we have with our roads.

Reeves stated that he appealed to the Road Commissioners and had a meeting with all the Township Supervisors in the County. Asked Dresselhouse if there was a possibility that the Road Commission would come through and do something. Answered not on their present budget.

Morgan stated this meeting was not necessary as Dresselhouse cannot give us anything positive.

Reeves stated that what we have here is Health, Safety and Nuisance situation. Once we start to do it we will always have to do it ourselves. Dresselhouse agreed that once the Township started he doubted that the County would ever get back into the chloriding business.

Reeves advised the Board that he has checked with the Block Grant people. Funds could be transferred and used for road chloriding.

Mrs. Johnston asked Mr. Dresselhouse if we purchased the chloride and had the county apply it would it be less expensive. He said it would cost more for the county to do it than if we hired a private contractor.

Mr. Binet asked how many chloride truck the county has. It has four, but only using two. Also how wide they spread the chloride. 16 feet.

Motion by Morgan, supported by Humphreys to authorize Supervisor Reeves or committee appointed by him to meet with officials of Van Buren and Huron Townships to work out this mutual problem — the chloriding of the roads.

Motion carried unanimously.
Will take this discussion to the work shop meeting Thursday, May 19, 1983.

Motion by Humphreys, supported by Morgan to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 6:03 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,

CANCELLATIONS AND CORRECTIONS
Read your ad carefully the first time it appears, and report any errors before the next edition. This will be the only proof you will receive. Errors should be reported immediately, as Associated Newspapers, Inc. can be responsible for the first incorrect insertion only. NO CASH REFUNDS WILL BE MADE.

PUBLICATION POLICY
The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject and properly classify advertising submitted for publication. Publisher shall not be held liable for typographical errors except to the extent of the cost of first insertion and then only for that portion of ad that may have been rendered unusable by such error. Advertiser is advised to check their ad immediately after it appears in the paper and report any error found. Claims for error adjustment must be made immediately after ad is published.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED AD

1. IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the item or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, it's better to start your advertisement with the location.
2. BE CLEAR. Readers read more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite information. One of the most important considerations of any advertisement is to include the price.
3. MAKE IT EASY for the reader to reach you. ALWAYS include your telephone number or your name and address if you do not have regular hours, state a preferred time to have personal contact.
4. PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good classified ad.
5. CLASSIFIED READERS ARE already interested in buying what you are offering. These people have the money and are in the market to buy. Give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.
6. CLASSIFIED ADS THAT FAIL to do so through a lack of readability, and because they are often quickly worked and do not contain enough information to prompt action.

Local preps find gold at regional meet

Wayne leads 'mad gold rush'

Local high school athletes found their share of gold medals at the regional Class A and Class B track and field competitions held on Saturday.

With Livonia Churchill winning the regional championship at West Bloomfield High School and Belleville finishing second at the Wyandotte regional, the area will be well represented at the state finals scheduled for Sat., June 4.

The state trials for Class A will be staged at Jackson High School, while Class B regional survivors will travel to Caro for their state test.

Coach Robert Lynn at Wayne Memorial received a superlative performance from his team which produced more first place winners than any other local squad.

"Our kids were just outstanding," Coach Lynn noted, "and if we just had some more depth to this team there's nothing it couldn't accomplish."

Lynn, a former All-American prep hurdler who hails from Inkster, coached Marvin Parnell to repeat a feat he had accomplished nearly a decade ago: Parnell, coming off of a leg injury, captured both the 110-high hurdles and the 330-low hurdles' regional championships.

"Marvin just dominated the hurdles," coach Lynn said. "And he's also a strong contender for the state titles. He hasn't had anyone to push him all year."

The 17-year-old Wayne High junior covered the high hurdles in 14.5 seconds, then brushed off the lows in 38.5 for two of his three gold medals.

Wayne also received an outstanding effort from senior Shawn Boyer who set school and field records in winning the 440-yard dash in 48.5 seconds.

Tony Bass gave the Zebras the gold in the high jump as he claimed regional honors with a leap of 6 feet, 4 inches. Bass has cleared 6 feet, 7 this season.

Lynn's 880-yard relay team made up of Shawn Boyer, Bill Howard, Tony Bass and Marvin Parnell posted the second fastest time in the state this year in winning the regional championship with a 1:28.3 (Detroit Central's quartet has run a 1:28.1).

Wayne's mile relay team of Parnell, Bass, Duane Chandler and Boyer also picked up a gold medal thanks to its 3:22.0 finish, the second fastest time in the state.

The Zebras also will be represented at state by their 440 relay team of Hampton Lee, Howard, Tony Bass and Boyer who were clocked with the third best time at the regional (44.1).

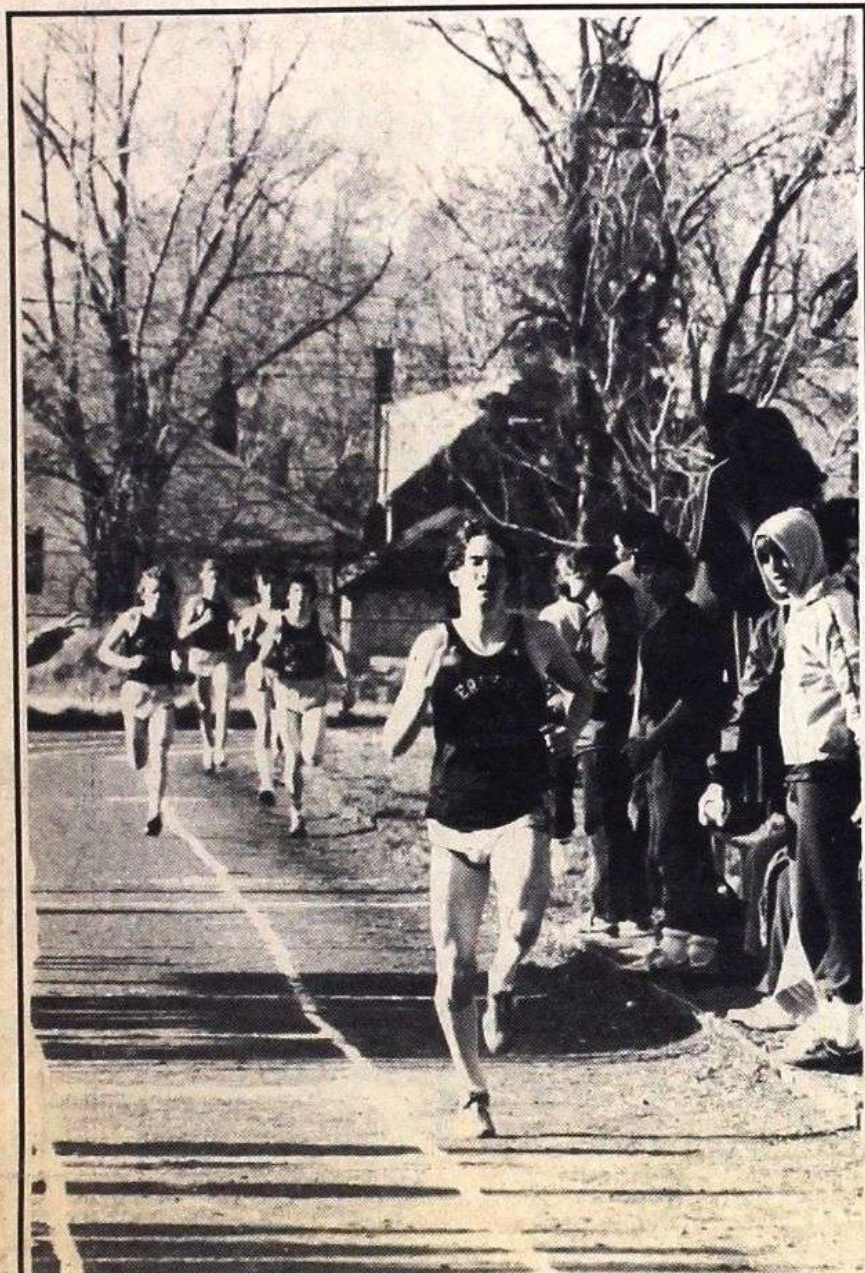

Howard was fifth in the 220 and Chandler finished sixth in the 880 (1:59.0) which gave the Zebras points but were not good enough times to advance them to the state.

Belleville was a "bridesmaid" to Detroit Cass Tech at the Wyandotte regional. The second place finish was the best ever for a Tiger track team in state competition and coach Dave Medley noted "that the kids did an exceptional job."

Belleville's Don Fuller saw his gold medal taken away from him. A protest in the pole vault forced competitors back to the pit after the Tiger vaulter finished first. It seems the official raised the pole at the wrong increment, and Dearborn coach Bob Bridges lodged a protest. The protest was approved.

Fuller, who had earlier won the competition with a 12 feet, 9 inches vault, had to start all over and the second time around wasn't sweet. He finished second to a Dearborn vaulter.

"It was a messy affair," said Coach Medley, "and I know a lot of (See PREPS Page D-2)

Cherry Hill's outstanding miler, Danny Smith, breezes across the finish line for a gold medal and a ticket to next week's Class B state finals, scheduled for Caro.

Rocket snap out of hitting slump

Belleville, Thurston, Canton, and North Farmington all found out this past week what the motto of John Glenn High School — "Never Give Up" — really means.

After their dramatic victory over Garden City the previous Friday, the Rockets came back this past week to play seven games in six days, including back-to-back doubleheaders on Friday and Saturday. The Rockets took four out of those seven games, three in dramatic fashion, that only served to give credence to their motto to "never give up."

First to find out what the motto means was Belleville, who came to Glenn on Monday, sporting an 11-10 record.

Jeff Nieman started on the hill for the Rockets and promptly gave up a lead-off homer to Dennis Overholt.

The Rockets tied the game in the second and went on top, 3-1, in the third as Donn Wolfe and Bruce Billings singled. Wolfe scored on an error and Doug Brown singled in the other run.

Glenn Belcher walked, stole second and third and scored on a throwing error by the catcher to make it 4-2 in the fourth.

Belleville closed the gap to 4-3 in the fifth on a walk to Ostrowski, a single by Overholt and a ringing double by Keith Riling, who grew up in Westland and played his baseball for the WYAA under the tutelage of Bob Kujawski. Ironically, Kujawski's son is the present Rocket third baseman.

Belcher relieved Nieman and got the Rockets out of the inning. The junior hurler fanned four without surrendering a hit and picked up the save.

Probably the most dramatic victory of the week came on Tuesday against league rival Redford Thurston. The Eagles entered the game with a 5-2 record and tied for first in the Northwest Suburban League with Garden City. Glenn was two games behind the Eagles and looked to move up in the standings. Thurston also was looking that way, also, so they went with their ace, Ed Dumas, as did the Rockets in Steve Jaskolski, who had beaten the Eagles earlier in the season, 3-2.

Glenn drew first blood in the second when Belcher walked, stole second, and scored on a single by Mike Lentine. It stayed that way until the sixth when the Eagles tallied three runs off reliever Belcher, who came on in the fifth when Jaskolski suffered an injury. Dumas walked, Bob Foley, Greg Somerville and Bob McGrath singled to produce a run. Jeff Valdez produced a run with a fielder's choice and a single by Rousseau got the third run home.

But the fun was just beginning. The Rockets warmed up their chilled fans with a two-run rally to tie the game in the seventh. Dennis Lamberti started the frame with a single and, with one out, Chris Merandi walked. Lamberti scored on a Thurston miscue and Merandi made it home when Dumas uncorked a wild pitch.

In the decisive eighth, Lentine struck out to begin the inning but Thurston's catcher let the ball get past him and Lentine reached first. A walk and a single loaded the bases and up stepped Merandi. The senior second baseman drove the ball hard to left field and Lentine was able to romp home on the sacrifice fly.

The victory put Glenn within one game of second place and extracted a measure of revenge for two members of the team — Jaskolski and Baydarian — who had to endure a couple of defeats this winter on the basketball court to Thurston.

The next night (that's right, night), Glenn took on the Plymouth Canton Chiefs at Westland's Jaycee Park. And what a wild one it was! The Rockets grabbed an early 4-0 lead and helped starting pitcher Bruce Billings as he allowed only three hits through the first four innings.

But the roof nearly fell in on the Rockets in the fifth inning when the Chiefs tallied six runs for a 6-4 lead. Canton combined five hits, two walks and a sacrifice fly for their runs. Capnerhurst had the sacrifice fly, Martin drove in two runs and Dillon one and another scored on a Rocket miscue.

But Billings persevered as all Rockets are taught to do and got himself out of the inning. His teammates got him the lead again in the bottom of the inning when Belcher doubled home two runs and added two insurance runs in the sixth on a double by Lamberti, who was aided all night by his personal cheering section.

On Friday, Glenn took on North Farmington in a NWSL doubleheader that would determine whether Glenn would finish second or third. A sweep would do the trick, but a spit would hurt. Certainly, Raiders' pitcher John Nowak helped the cause by walking 11 batters, two of them in the first inning with the bases-loaded to force home a pair of runs.

The Rockets were nearly as generous as Donn Wolfe issued 8 free passes to Raider batters — five of them in the third inning when they scored three times to take a 3-2 lead. But, for all his problems, Wolfe was pitching a no-hitter (See ROCKETS Page D-2)

Belleville seeks playoff spot

There are only two losses attached to Belleville High's enviable 24-2-1 over-all softball season and one of those is to an outstanding Ann Arbor Huron team.

And Coach Peggy Curtis's Tigers will have an opportunity to avenge that setback when they tangle with Huron in a pre-district qualifying game on Friday in Ann Arbor. The survivor of the duel will be eligible for the Class A District playoff spot.

"Huron has an excellent team," Coach Curtis said, "but I feel we'll be ready for them."

Belleville will start Judy Wisniewski on the mound. The 17-year-old senior hurler had had a superb season as she led her teammates to the final Suburban 8 Conference championship. She's 18-1-1 on the season.

Although she said she isn't diminishing the championship, coach Curtis said that, "It was a much easier to win the title because there were only four teams in the conference. However, any time you win a championship it's a big honor."

The Suburban 8 lost four members last year and will disband after the current season and most of its remaining members will join the newly-formed Wolverine A Conference.

Wisniewski twirled an eight-hitter, struck out seven and didn't walk any as Belleville crushed Dearborn 10-2 in their final confrontation in the league.

Debbie Stull provided the winners with two key hits which produced two runs batted in.

Monroe, the only other team to beat the Tigers this year, succumbed to Belleville and Wisniewski in a doubleheader. Wisniewski pitched a two-hitter, whiffed four and walked six in a 1-0 shutout of the Trojans and she came back in the nightcap to blank their future league rivals 5-0.

In the first game, Belleville scored in the sixth on a Stull single, Michelle LaMance's sacrifice and senior Sandy Mattson's base hit.

Monroe's Chris Rossie also was tough on the mound as she served up six hits, struck out three and walked only one in taking the loss.

Lemance's homer with Stull aboard on the fifth was enough to give the Tigers the win in the second game. Wisniewski hurled a five-hitter, walked one, and struck out six for the decision.

Who's 'Sub 4' baseball champ?

"We're all either in first place or in last place," noted Belleville coach Tom Fielder after his Tigers dropped a 6-1 decision to Dearborn last week.

The comment was prompted by 3-3 finishes by all four remaining members of the nee Suburban 8, now Suburban 4 Conference representatives.

"I think we should award the championship to Trenton," Fielder quipped, "after all they can boast that they beat all of us at least once."

Belleville needed the decision over Dearborn to clinch the title but it just wasn't in the books as the Pioneers got to loser Tim Chambers for seven hits, four walks and six runs before Fielder removed him in the sixth for Eric Edwards.

The Tigers averted the shutout in the opening inning when Dennis Overholt blasted a leadoff double and scored with a one-out single by Keith Riling.

Dearborn's Mark Zombory was tough after that initial inning. He gave up only one other hit, struck out eight and walked one for the victory.

"We haven't been hitting very well lately," Coach Fielder offered, "and we're going to have to correct that if we want to get past Ann Arbor Huron."

Huron and Belleville were scheduled to play for a pre-district playoff spot last week but rains washed out the game. Rescheduled for Tuesday, if rains prevent the contest the two coaches would have to flip a coin to see which team will meet Romulus on the home field on Friday in the pre-district game.

Eagles: Win, lose and draw

While Coach Dennis Stoh and Romulus High are waiting to learn which team they will meet in the pre-district playoffs — Belleville or Ann Arbor Huron — the Eagles managed to win one, lose one and tie one — all in one afternoon.

Romulus completed a rained out contest with Erie Mason, called because of rain in the seventh with the score deadlocked at 2-all earlier in the year. Monday afternoon the Eagles broke the deadlock in the top of the eighth on three successive singles by Matt Sullivan, Mark Searcy and Bobby Sloan to pick up a 3-2 victory.

Matt Percy, who worked the seventh and eighth innings, gave up no runs or hits, got credit for the win.

However, in the second game, Percy was the victim of a 5-0 shutout as Erie's Andy Cousino fashioned a two-hitter, walked five and struck out seven for the victory. Cousino was tagged for a double by Bill Coaltrain in the fourth inning and Dave Blevins stroked a single in the fifth for the Eagles' only other hit.

The third game was called in the sixth because of darkness after Erie Mason rallied for four runs in the top of that inning to tie the game at 5-all, leaving the Eagles a mere three outs away for the triumph.

Romulus took a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the second when Percy, Searcy, Roger Harris and Mickey Panek put together a string of four hits and they made it a 5-1 ball game at the end of the third on two hits by Percy and Eddy Eddings and an error.

"It's happen so many times before this year that we have been three-outs away from a victory and just couldn't finish off the opposition," Coach Stoh remarked. "It gets to be a bit frustrating."

WW swim champions

Six excellent reasons why the Belleville Tiger Swim Club captured the 1983 winter championship in the Western Wayne Aquatic Conference are Maria Ferrara (first row, from left), Rachele Jackson and Kaye Anne Pappas; second row are Dee Pappas and Kim Lee Ferrara who were key performers on the squad. The Tigers are seeking new recruits and should contact Pat Stacey at 699-7301 for further information.

Dolphins are looking good

The Dolphins, one of the best age group swimming clubs in Western Wayne County, are seeking new swimmers and will hold tryouts at 5 p.m., Tues., June 7 at Wayne Memorial High School's swimming facilities. Coached by Jim McPartlin, the Dolphins have produced many outstanding high school swimmers. Membership is open for boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 18 who reside in Wayne or the Wayne High school attendance area. Registration for old members will begin on June 1 at the Wayne Community Center. Cost of the program is $25 per swimmer or $75 per family. A practice schedule may be picked up when a swimmer signs up. Practice will begin on June 20 at Wayne Memorial High School.

Belleville also received silver medals from Rod Laframboise who was runner-up in the shot put (48 feet, 10 inches); Tony Loechli, second in the low hurdles (38.9); John Fisher, second in the mile (44.3) and the 2-mile (9:40) runs.

Tribute to Don Domke

He did it his way

By ALAN WALTZ SR.
(Special ANP Writer)

Recently in ceremonies at the U. of M. Crisler Arena, former Westland John Glenn athletic director Don Domke, was inducted into the Michigan High School coaches Hall of Fame.

That incident brings back fond memories for a lot of athletes in and around the Wayne-Westland area. Domke first came to our attention back in 1952 when he took over as head football coach at Wayne High School.

In 1951 they were using the old single-wing offense at Wayne High and didn't do too well as they had a small team. So when Coach Domke took over, he surveyed his offensive line which averaged about 150 to 160 pounds, and he decided to change the offense. He went to the T-formation with quick-hitters (traps) up the middle which sprung his little halfbacks past the line of scrimmage before the enemy could look twice.

Once he drew the defense in, he would call a quick pitch around end and with those little guards pulling, it would be another ten yards.

Well dear old Wayne High went 8-1 that year losing only to Ypsilanti 13-7 to cap off an amazing turn around from the year before.

The next thing we knew, Coach Domke took over a relatively experienced senior-oriented baseball team that went nowhere the year before but nobody could figure out why. Coach Domke made a couple of changes in the infield, put a sophomore in left field and away they went on a rampage which opened some eyes in the conference that year. One of the highlights was a 1-0 victory over a very tough Hamtramck team (in those days a baseball team from Hamtramck meant nothing but "you lose" usually). It wasn't so much the 1-0 victory that surprised everyone but the way it was accomplished was a bit surprising. Coach Domke started a sophomore that day and after four innings of shutout ball in which the sophomore has allowed no runs and one hit he pulled him out of the game and replaced him with a senior.

Now at the time, all the boys were wondering if Coach Domke needed a little examination of the brain although they said nothing. On the sidelines coach kinda chuckled for he was the only one who knew that his senior pitcher was really irritated that he didn't start that game against Hamtramck. Well, Hamtramck didn't get another hit that game and Wayne squeezed in a run late in the game to win 1-0 and send everyone home happy and all the Hamtramck fans were still talking to good for second place.

Romulus also had its share of qualifiers.

Kevin Baker posted a school record in the 440-yard dash when he turned in a 49.4 and finished second. Coach Al Wilkerson's 880-yard relay team made up of Baker, Terry Roache, Dale Green and Jerome Austin finished behind Detroit Cass themselves that someone would have the audacity to beat them on their home field.

I know everyone on that team that year will never forget that game although Coach Domke probably has. But you see we were fortunate enough to be the first to get the benefit of his baseball mind. Off that ball team that year we now have two doctors, a very successful businessman, a CPA, and an intermediate school principal, and a college professor. Not bad I guess.

Only goes to show you that Coach Domke did some "other" kind of coaching besides baseball and always said that school should come first and then baseball. So we salute you Coach Domke, the resurrector of football and baseball at Wayne.

Tech and Belleville with a 44.7. Baker, Roache, Lamont Taylor and Jerome Austin also made up the third place-finishing 440-yard relay team.

Jerome Austin was runner-up in the long jump competition as he finished with the silver medal for his 21 feet, 1 inch leap. Darren Grandison was fourth with a 20 feet, 8 inch effort.

Danny Smith was a double gold medal winner for Cherry Hill at the Class B regional meet held at Oxford. Smith, a senior, ran a 4:20.4 for the 1,600 meters (mile) then tied the state's best time and established a school record for the 800-meter when he crossed the finish line first with a 1:54.3.

The Spartans also received a first from Steve Sheahan who picked up a gold medal for his 21 feet, 8 inches leap in the long jump and he was second in the 300-meter low hurdles with a 39 seconds flat effort.

Coach Dick Gordon's 400-meter relay team made up of Earl Truss, Steve Sheahan, Vondale Tate and Lou Smith was clocked in 43.1 which broke the school record and gave the Spartans another first place.

Lou Smith qualified in the 200-meter dash, finishing third in 22.5. That performance clipped the Spartan school record for the event, set earlier in the year by Smith.

Gordon put together a team of Richard Smith, Earl Truss, Danny Smith and Lou Smith which was the best at the regional for the 1,600 meter relay.

Cherry Hill finished fourth overall, and despite the finish, Gordon said that his team had a good day.

"Our 880-team was disqualified because the officials argued there was an early baton exchange," Gordon pointed out. "We were second, but then lost those 10 points. If we hadn't been disqualified, we would have finished second over-all."

Marysville captured the "B" title at Oxford, but will have to beat an always strong Flint Beecher for the Class B state championship.

Salem's Walkley signs with Saginaw Valley

Saginaw Valley State College Wrestling Coach Karl Briggs has signed another prize recruit. Harry Walkley will be reunited with former Plymouth Salem High School teammate Marty Piper, who will enter his second year on the Cardinal mats next fall.

Walkley could fill SVSC's need for a 177-pound wrestler who has the ability to pin his opponents. "Harry is a dangerous wrestler who has good upper body strength and is tenacious in pinning his opponents," said Briggs, pointing out

Walkley led the Rocks in falls this season. "He comes from an excellent high school program and has the ability to start for us as a freshman."

As a prep, Walkley earned many honors to go along with his impressive 39-6 record in his enior season. He captained his team to a 10th-place finish in the Class A state championship and helped his teams cause by placing sixth in the 185-pound weight class. Walkley demonstrated versatility by winning the A.A.U. (Amateur Athletic Association) Freestyle State Championship.

Walkley's talent is not limited to one sport. He also excelled on the gridiron where he was the Rocks "Most Valuable" lineman. The two-sport star will join the Cardinal football program this fall before the wrestling season begins.

"I think three or four of our wrestlers could be starting for the football team this fall," predicted Briggs.

The signing of Walkley leaves Briggs' best recruiting season virtually completed. "I'd rate our recruiting year about an eight on a scale of ten. We should be solid throughout our lineup and more competitive in dual meets as well as in tournaments."

Walkley is the son of Karla and Harry Walkley of 1335 Copeland in Canton.

Awards' nite

Belleville teachers pick outstanding students

Belleville High School faculty held its fifth annual Senior Honor Awards' Assembly recently and more than 30 students were recipients of a wide range of academic awards.

The assembly has given the school staff the opportunity to recognize and applaud the accomplishments of senior men and women at Belleville High School.

The students received awards for "Academic Excellence," "Outstanding services to school and community," and for athletic accomplishments.

Some of the awards that were presented included: departmental awards, Phi Beta Kappa, Congressman's Medal of Merit, Citizenship Award — Daughter's of the American Revolution, Air Force Academy appointments, and various scholarship awards.

In addition to the recognition given to seniors, their outstanding accomplishments have earned them financial rewards as well. Thus far, the senior class of 1983, will have garnered $459,147 in scholarships and financial aid during the 1982-83 school year.

The seniors receiving recognition at this assembly were the following: Calvin Abraham, Cari Baetens, Brad Ballard, Michael Barnes, Eric Brown, Kenneth Eccles, Steve Eissinger, Mary Ferrell, Kim Fields, Cynthia Fitch, Bridget Florian, Lisa Gubaci, Brenda Hardy, Tami Harkai, Gregg Helzerman, Steve Henry, Becky Horchem and Linda Johnson.

Other recipients are: Gaylen Kenyon, Rod LaFramboise, Thomas Ley, Sandra Mattson, Ann Oliver, Shannon Quinlin, Lori Reuben, Billy Schooler, Cathy Seay, Janet Soja, Gregory Sturtz, Tami Vicchy, Pat Elizabeth Stettler, Debbie Stull, Villeneuve and Kathy Zager.

It's been good year for Junior Achievers

DDA, Kelsey Hayes play key roles

This has been a very successful year for J.A. at Romulus, not only in sales but in learning experience for students.

Junior Achievement is an organization for students sponsored by local businesses to learn about business. This year Romulus had two J.A. companies, one sponsored by Detroit Diesel Allison (R.E.A.M.-Romulus Eagles American Made) and Kelsey-Hayes (K.R. Enterprises).

In late October officers were elected, stocks were sold, and products were designed and constructed by each company.

During the program year, J.A. sponsored a wide variety of contests and activities for students. The Romulus Center had excellent participation with much success in competing with other J.A. centers of Southeastern Michigan.

Sherry Rush was a finalist in the "Outstanding Young Business Woman" and "Officer of the Year Contests."

Craig Evans was a semi-finalist in the Best Salesperson Contest. A Christmas wreath, designed by R.E.A.M., was second runner-up in the Product of the Year Contest.

In order to help increase sales both companies participated in several mall sales in shopping centers around the Detroit area. The R.E.A.M. Company received trophies at both the Livonia and Macomb Malls for their excellent displays.

In March students from each company were invited to attend the Economic Club of Detroit's luncheon where they met and listened to Martin Feldstein, Chief Economic Advisor to the President. Also both of the sponsoring companies took students on plant tours and provided lunch for them.

All in all Junior Achievement had a very successful year at the Romulus Center. K.R. Enterprises had sales of $1,244.10, while R.E.A.M.'s sales totaled $842.50 giving the Romulus Center over $2,000 in sales for its first year for J.A. in Romulus.

The support of both businesses and school were very valuable in helping the companies throughout the year.

Advisors for each company include: R.E.A.M. — Mary Lou Gwozdek, Mark Hoover, Sheldon Chandler, Jr., Kevin Tucker, and Bill George; Kelsey Hayes — Cliff Smith, Jim Massery, Roger Downey, Bill Waldron, Pat Perkoski, and Jan Aberasturi. Center Manager for Romulus was Howard Miller, teacher at Romulus Senior High School.
